Chinese Students
Not Like
Americans In Strike Matters

CHINESE students rioted on the side of the strikers, in Shanghai. That happens everywhere but in America. Here, students think it a lark to "scab" in strikers' places. In other countries, universities are centers of radical and revolutionary movements. American students talk for "good" but take traditional conservatism for granted. Don't worry about the "faculty reds" that our 200-people centers see in their dreams. What they teach would rank as conservatism anywhere else. And our students are immune to it, anyway. Radicalism requires either hardship or intellectual quality for its soil. Our students know neither.

The "trust busting" era is over. The supreme court has decided, in practical effect, that "good" trusts are legal, and the administrative departments have no intention of prosecuting them. They will merely watch, to see that they remain "good."

It is all in the course of progress. The Roosevelt progressives of a dozen years ago were the first to proclaim that the evil is not in size or combination, but in the use made of them, and proposed, not to "bust," but to regulate the trusts. Individualism and competition, as the ultimate regulators of great business, belong to an age so far past that reliance on them is not conservative. It is reactionary. The problem of the future is not to smash the trusts, but to use them.

ONE more thing the decision of the supreme court in the Oregon school case will protect us against. If the Tennessee mania spreads, to forbid in public schools and colleges the teaching of any thing that Breyer does not know, the states will at least not have authority to compel everybody to attend these Brynized institutions. Modern knowledge may still be taught at private expense, even if prohibited at public cost.

THE ambition of President Coolidge to be "just folks" is doomed to disappointment. The railroads will not have him on their regular trains and insist on his traveling "special."

The problem of getting a regular train through safely and on time, with the president aboard, is almost beyond their resources. It would be cheaper to give him a special train for nothing, if the law permitted. And the president himself finds that he can get the ordinary rights of ordinary men only by extraordinary methods. John Smith gets his right by buying a ticket and getting aboard. But if Calvin Coolidge were to try the same thing, he would be the center of a mob the whole way.

The only way for him to get John Smith's rights is to have more than John Smith's money. It is easier and cheaper to give him those rights on a special than on a regular train.

"FELLOW CITIZENS: Please vote for me! This is my platform: Our government owes you sundry billions. It will pay you twenty-five cents on the dollar. It owes foreigners other billions. It will pay them one hundred cents, and tax you to do it. Other foreigners owe us money; but, at the request of the creditors who will forgive us our debts, we have forgiven our debtors. Please elect me, to tax you to carry out this program."

How would you like to run for office, on a platform like that? From the French standpoint, this is exactly what we are asking French politicians to do. And our chance of payment depends on their chance of election on this policy. Prove it "right" all you like. What would you bet on getting it, on these conditions?

Discover Plot to Murder Slovakian Foreign Minister
VIENNA, June 9.—A plot to assassinate the Czechoslovakian foreign minister, Benes, should he come to Vienna, has been discovered, according to Der Abend, an extremist afternoon newspaper. The paper claims that the plotters are members of the Nationalistic organization, "Awakened Hungarians," in Budapest, and that they are cooperating with Austrian "Hakenkreuzler," an anti-Semitic Nationalistic order.

Mystery Seen In Nurse's Suicide
SACRAMENTO, June 9.—The motive which prompted pretty Miss Hazel Kinney, 19-year-old nurse, to take her life a few moments after Thomas Hunt, her fiancé, left her apartment Saturday night, today remained a mystery. A coroner's inquest into the tragedy failed to determine the motive and returned a verdict of "death by gunshot wounds self-inflicted for reasons unknown."

Showers Break Up Heat Wave In East
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Final rout of the late heat wave was proclaimed by the weather bureau today with local thunder showers forecast for every state east of the Mississippi river.

West Coast Plans $300,000 Theater Here

SANTA ANA TO BE NAME OF PLAYHOUSE
Structure Will Be Erected On Southwest Corner of Fourth and Ross Streets

LINE UP WITH WALKER
Local Man Becomes Affiliated With One of Greatest Show Organizations

CONTEMPLATED construction of a $300,000 theater and store building on the southwest corner of Fourth and Ross streets, by the West Coast Theaters, inc., one of the largest theatrical organizations in the world, was announced here today by C. E. Walker, owner of Walker's theater, and A. L. Gore, vice president of the West Coast. The Santa Ana theater will be the name of the new playhouse.

At the same time, it was announced that the organization had purchased a large interest in Walker's theater, located on North Main street, between Third and Fourth streets, Walker thus becoming affiliated with this great statewide organization.

At investment of $300,000 while in the city, Gore declared that arrangements are being completed whereby the corporation will formed through the affiliation, take over the corner, owned by Walker, and will start the new structure at once. It will be a Class A theater and store building, and the investment will be in excess of $300,000, Gore said.

Walker stated that, by his new affiliation, he would be in position to provide theatergoers of Santa Ana with the very best stage and screen entertainment to be procured anywhere in the United States. He will be resident manager in charge of the new combine.

For the present, it will be the plan of the West Coast Theaters, inc., and Walker to operate Walker's theater on a very high plane, offering the finest of stage and screen productions, including Orpheum standard vaudeville. Headed by A. M. Bowles, experts of the West Coast organization have been in consultation with Walker relative to his coming mode of operations and programs.

$45,000 Orchestral Organ
Discussing plans for the new third-of-a-million dollar theater, Gore and Walker pointed out that, not only would Santa Ana be benefited by the addition of such a structure, but that, among the installations will be a magnificent $45,000 orchestral organ. There will be a huge stage, capable of presenting the largest of variety and road attractions, as well as elaborate productions. Discussed plans provide for modern and costly decorative and lighting effects, drapings, tapestries, seating facilities, ventilating equipment, projection apparatus—in fact, everything that will be necessary to make the new theater a strictly modern metropolitan show place.

Friends of Walker today were extending their congratulations upon his new connection, the affiliation being recognized as an important step in placing the local theater man among the most prominent owners and managers in the Southland.

Walker has been a resident of Santa Ana for many years and has made several big advances in the operation of his theater enterprise here. He completed the present Walker theater a year ago last January.

Painleve Will Inspect Riffian Front
PARIS, June 9.—Premier Painleve is about to make a personal inspection of the Moroccan situation and its possible solution. The cabinet today decided he should leave this evening for the French operations against Abd el Krim's Riffians.

3 PARTIES OF SEARCHERS TO HUNT EXPLORER
NEW YORK, June 9.—Three searching parties have arranged to hunt for the missing Amundsen-Ellsworth flyers.

The Norwegian government has issued the steamer Ingertre toward Spitzbergen carrying airplanes which will scout over the ice fields.

The American MacMillan expedition, scheduled to leave for Etah, Greenland, the end of June, will maintain a lookout for Amundsen.

A third expedition will be led by Jean Charcot, French polar explorer, who is about to leave France for Greenland.

Prominent Arctic experts still share the view that Amundsen eventually will be found, but it is recalled that his food supply will run out in about another week, after which he must rely on what game he can shoot.

DEFENSE STARTS IN LIBEL ACTION
YUMA, Ariz., June 9.—George Lynn's defense to charges of criminal libel preferred against him by E. F. Sanguinetti, millionaire politician, started today in superior court.

The editor called a number of witnesses in an effort to prove the truth of the alleged libelous articles concerning Sanguinetti, which formed the basis of the suit.

The state's case was rested late yesterday. A motion of defense counsel to dismiss the case on grounds of insufficient evidence was overruled.

G. W. Washburn, manager of a resort across the border, was a principal witness for the prosecution. He testified that Lynn had approached him with the suggestion the editor be kidnapped in advance of publication of a prepared series of articles attacking Sanguinetti.

Under cross-examination, Washburn admitted he had been ordered out of Lynn's office, and that the editor had cautioned him against "employing Yuma girls in his resort."

Escapes Death In Wreck; Is Killed By Passing Auto
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Escaping death when the automobile he was driving overturned on a highway near here today, Vernett Turner, 28, negro garage worker, was run over and killed by a passing machine while walking away from the wreck.

COOLIDGE ON WAY BACK TO WASHINGTON
President Delighted With Enthusiastic Reception Given Him In Minnesota

TRIP IS SUCCESSFUL
Lavish Praise of Scandinavian People by Executive Brings Him Much Favor

WASHINGTON, June 9.—With echoing cheers of thousands still ringing in his ears, President Coolidge early today was speeding south through Wisconsin aboard his special train, bound for Washington and his summer's vacation. He was due in Chicago at 11:10 a. m., and at the national capital early tomorrow morning. It was the same train of five cars which took him to the Twin Cities.

The trip of the President to Minneapolis and St. Paul and his speech to the Norse-American Centennial yesterday afternoon was generally regarded as a distinct success. It was believed that the President himself viewed it in this light, for the reception accorded him at each place was cordial in the extreme.

Weather is wretched. Not even the wretched weather could detract much from the genuine enthusiasm demonstrated by the crowds for the man who has been looked on as too cold to prove an emotional response.

They braved howling winds and driving rains by the thousands to wave flags and shout cheers at the silent man in the trim tan car with Mrs. Coolidge at his side, and lined the road in solid phalanxes for 10 miles between St. Paul and Minneapolis for a wave of his hand.

But the President seemed to score despite these handicaps. His lavish praise of the Norwegian people and their contribution to the upbuilding of the United States, his sympathy for their racial aims and aspirations—the question of politics aside—warmed the crowd to him.

Mrs. Coolidge Triumphs
Mrs. Coolidge won a personal success, too. With her usual charm, she walked into the affection of Minnesota women, a sphere where politics is barred. She was particularly lovely in her gown of green beaded crepe de chine, topped with a black cloak trimmed with ermine and a close-fitting black turban that she wore on the drive.

Ahead of the President on his return to the capital are two weeks' of clean-up work preparatory to abandoning the White House to the carpenters for the summer and moving to Swamp scott, Mass.

STEAMER IS AGROUND.
MARCUS HOOK, Pa., June 9.—The steamer Ericson of the Ericson line, bound to Philadelphia from Baltimore, went aground shortly before 7 a. m. today. The vessel is in no danger and no passengers have yet been taken off.

Three shots from the policeman's gun brought Kirby down. He is near death, police they had quarreled over a damaged suit of clothes.

Police learned that Kirby's father, J. A. Richter, lives in San Pedro, Calif.

Seizure of Autos To Be Decided By Supreme Tribunal
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The U. S. circuit court of appeals for this district planned today to secure a ruling from the U. S. supreme court on validity of seizure of automobiles under the Volstead act. Presiding Judge Hunt declared one of four cases on the calendar will be taken to the highest court in the land, averring that appellate courts have written so many divergent opinions that it was now opportune to get a final decision.

Rich Engineer Sued for $75,000 Balm
OAKLAND, June 9.—Charles Henry Schwartz, wealthy chemical engineer, today faced a $75,000 breach of promise suit filed here by Miss Elizabeth A. Adams. Schwartz, concealed his name and identity behind the assumed name of "Stein," according to the girl's suit, which declares he is married and has three children.

14 BODIES ARE REMOVED FROM KENTUCKY MINE
STURGIS, Ky., June 9.—Fourteen bodies today were taken from mine No. 9 of the Kentucky Coal company where an explosion occurred yesterday. Three others are believed to lie somewhere in the workings.

(By United Press)
STURGIS, Ky., June 9.—Weary rescue workers still were digging today in an effort to locate the remaining bodies of 13 miners trapped in an explosion which wrecked mine No. 9 of the West Kentucky Coal company here yesterday.

Four bodies of negro miners have been recovered and it was believed there were nine bodies still left—five white and four colored. Six men were brought out alive late Monday.

"All the men at the level at which we are now working were dead two minutes after the blast," T. E. Jenkins, vice president of the coal company, said today.

DECREASE IN WHEAT CROP IS FORECAST
WASHINGTON, June 9.—The department of agriculture, in its regular June crop report today, predicted a wheat crop smaller than any since 1917.

Winter wheat fared badly throughout most of the regular belt, due to low May temperatures and drought.

The department forecast a total production of 661,000,000 bushels of spring and winter wheat this year, compared with last year's 773,000,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 837,000,000 bushels.

The May 15 farm price for all wheat was placed at 14.9 cents, compared with 96.8 cents last year.

Condition of winter wheat was 86.5 per cent on June 1, forecast—production of 407,000,000 bushels from the acreage of 22,831,000, compared with the 590,000,000 bushels produced last year from an acreage nearly 11 per cent larger.

This indicates a yield per acre of 12.4 bushels, compared with 16.2 bushels last year and the five year average of 14.7.

DOROTHY ELLINGSON GOES UNDER KNIFE
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Dorothy Ellingson, accused as the slayer of her mother, underwent an operation for appendicitis here today.

Her condition was pronounced favorable by Dr. T. D'Arcy Quinn, city surgeon, who performed the operation. According to Dr. Quinn, the girl will be able to leave the hospital and return to the county jail in 10 days or two weeks.

The "jazz girl" has been ill for a month. Her first symptoms appeared while at the Napa asylum, where she underwent a sanity test after her first murder trial was halted because a jury found her insane. She was returned here as sane and trial set for June 15, but it was postponed until August 11 due to her illness.

PACT BLOCKS BERLIN MOVE ON FRONTIER
Security Agreement Would Prevent Aggressive Action on East or West

SECURITY ON RHINE
France and Britain Are In Accord With Joint Reply To Proffer by Germany

LONDON, June 9.—Great Britain is pledged under the Franco-British security pact agreement to use her full forces in case of an actual emergency on the western borders of Germany, it was authoritatively stated today. The pact, intended chiefly to safeguard France and Belgium from possible German aggressions, operates, nevertheless, to safeguard Germany if France or Belgium should attack. That means Britain is obligated to go to Germany's assistance in such a case, just as she is pledged to go to France's or Belgium's in an opposite situation.

(By United Press)
PARIS, June 9.—Germany will be prevented from making any aggressive moves to the east or west, if she accepts the security pact as agreed upon by England and France.

The joint reply to Germany's proffers of a pact will undoubtedly be sent this week. To Wilhelmstrasse and will contain provisions designed to make the Rhine border really secure.

It was learned today that the drafted reply does not vary greatly from the original draft. However, there are two new stipulations.

First, France will guarantee the execution of any arbitration decision, resulting from proposed arbitration treaties among Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia, should the decision be disregarded.

Secondly, England will guarantee similarly the execution of proposed arbitration treaties between Germany and France, and between Germany and Belgium, affecting the western frontier of Germany.

The effect of these provisions is to give a serious measure of security to France on the Rhineland and likewise to the frontiers of France's friends, the little entente.

These measures are in addition to the Anglo-French accord arrived at in Geneva, whereby England guarantees the Rhine against eventual German thrusts.

The note will emphasize, as originally, that Germany must qualify into the League of Nations unconditionally, and that Germany's entry into the league must be simultaneous with operation of the safety pact.

The upshot of Anglo-French negotiations over the security pact is that England will not be compelled to use her forces for any conflict involving Germany's eastern frontiers. England was quite opposed to this suggestion, but she is ready to support by arms any infringements of the Rhine on Germany's part.

At the same time, Germany, if she accepts the pact, will have failed in her manifest purpose of getting a tacit recognition of alteration of the Versailles treaty. She wanted the eastern borders excluded from operation of the pact, and sought thereby to get allied tacit recognition of the German claims to eventual changes in the eastern frontiers.

DARROW IS ACCEPTED AS ATTORNEY FOR TENNESSEE PROFESSOR OF EVOLUTION
(By United Press)
NEW YORK, June 9.—Clarence Darrow, noted trial lawyer, of Chicago, was this afternoon formally agreed upon as counsel for the defense in the case of John T. Scopes, who is to be tried at Dayton, Tenn., on a charge of having taught evolution in his school.

Moros Slain In Battle With Constabulary
MANILA, P. I., June 9.—Seven Moros were killed and many wounded in a battle in Lanao province between Moros and members of the constabulary attempting to capture Sultan Raya, Moro chieftain, according to word reaching here today.

The battle, it was reported, was authorized by Governor General Wood who has authorized a government reward of $250 for Raya's arrest.

Raya is idolized by the Moros. He is charged with a long series of robberies and other crimes extending over several months.

POLICE BAFFLED IN COLLEGE AX MURDER QUIZ
(By United Press)
BATON ROUGE, La., June 9.—Authorities investigating the ax murder of Prof. Oscar B. Turner, of Louisiana State university, have run against a stone wall.

After two days' investigation which followed the finding of Turner's body in his office in the agronomy building early Sunday, police admitted they were without sufficient evidence to warrant an arrest.

One student is under suspicion on the theory that he killed Professor Turner with an ax when discovered returning final examination papers stolen the day before.

Meanwhile, the coroner's inquest resumed today and additional students were summoned in an effort to solve the crime.

"No arrest will be made until we have absolute and positive proof," District Attorney Fred Odum said today. "This is a terrible crime and it would be equally terrible to cast even an insinuation against an innocent man."

The thirty-three students taught by Professor Turner in his agronomy class, among whom police confidently believe the murderer will be found, have decided to assist in the hunt for the slayer.

All cooperated in searching one another's room and effects in an effort to throw further light on the mystery.

Hall Must Stand Trial On Assault
SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Floyd Hall must stand trial on the charge of assault to murder Patrolman Clyde Nunn, who was shot and seriously wounded by Hall and his partner, Joe Tanko, during their sensational flight across the state.

A demurrer to the indictment charging Hall with the offense was overruled by Superior Judge John P. Pullen yesterday, after a day of argument on its merit.

Hall pleaded not guilty to the charge and the case was continued one week to be set for trial.

Killed as Train Hits Gas Truck
BAKERSFIELD, June 9.—J. H. Rogers, manager of the Standard Oil company's plant at Delano, near here, was killed instantly when a truck of gasoline he was driving was struck by a Southern Pacific freight train. Rogers' body was burned to a crisp, the crash causing the gasoline to explode and become a mass of flames.

Launch Riddled and U. S. Citizens Are Forced to Return to Honan Island

ALIENS GET WARNING
Government at Washington Is Powerless to Act in Disturbances at Canton

(By United Press)
HONGKONG, June 9.—Yunnanese troops, engaged in civil war with the Cantonese troops, fired on four Americans, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frampton and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Ogden, today, while the party was endeavoring to cross by launch from Honan island to Canton. The launch flew the American flag.

Mrs. Frampton was wounded in the arm and the others were injured by splinters of glass. The launch itself was riddled and the Americans were forced to return to Honan Island, where anti-foreign sentiment is intense.

CHINESE STUDENTS WARN FOREIGNERS
PEKING, June 9.—Chinese students today warned foreigners here to remain indoors Wednesday, during a monster demonstration planned by the students. Schools will close and street-corner speakers will hold forth everywhere.

The warning was made as a precaution against possible untoward occurrences affecting foreigners.

STUDENTS SUPPORTED BY RUSSIA, CLAIM
SHANGHAI, June 9.—The prosecutor in the trial of student rioters, who caused recent outbreaks, opening today before the international mixed court, declared he possessed documentary evidence that the Shanghai university students instigated the troubles and that they were supported from Moscow.

Foreign witnesses testify that the shooting on the first day of the riots was unavoidable and absolved the police for their action. A Chinese detective testified that the students were not shot in the back, as the Chinese government has claimed.

Some workers are returning to their posts, while others are joining the general strike. Otherwise the situation in the city remains unchanged.

U. S. GOVERNMENT POWERLESS TO ACT
WASHINGTON, June 9.—The government is powerless to take effective action in regard to the wounding of four Americans at Canton by Yunnanese troops, except to repeat the warning of Consul Nunn, who was shot and seriously wounded by Hall and his partner, Joe Tanko, during their sensational flight across the state.

The only recognized government in China, the Peking regime, has little or no authority over Canton, and cannot be held responsible. American authorities are expected to protest vigorously to the Yunnanese commander, but meanwhile will urge foreigners to stay out of the range of gunfire.

HOT FIGHT RAGES ON HONAN ISLAND.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Yunnanese troops have been successful in crossing the river at Canton and have landed a landing on Honan island, defended by the Cantonese troops, the Chinese newspaper, Chung Sai Yat Po, told the United Press it had learned this afternoon. Hot fighting is now going on between the opposing armies, said the cable.

Kerr Continues Battle to Keep Out of Prison

Dr. Franklin E. Kerr has not yet given up the battle against charges that he sent poisoned candy through the mail to his estranged wife, Dr. Luella Kerr, of Fillmore.

The Garden Grove physician, who was convicted in federal court, in Los Angeles, and was ordered to appear for sentence yesterday, secured postponement of judgment until Wednesday, when his attorneys, it is announced, will present arguments for a new trial. If this is denied by Federal Judge James, an appeal will be taken. It is said Judge James has announced that in the event of an appeal, Dr. Kerr's bond will be fixed at $20,000.

The physician was found guilty last Friday on two counts in connection with charges that he mailed his wife a box of chocolates that had been treated with cyanide.

ILL FOR WEEK, MRS. CONGDON ANSWERS CALL

Friends of the F. P. Nickey and Walter N. Congdon families were shocked this morning to learn of the death, in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, last night, of Mrs. Congdon, appendicitis being the cause of death.

Mrs. Congdon was the wife of Walter N. Congdon, of Capistrano, and a daughter of F. P. Nickey, pioneer hardware merchant, of Santa Ana.

She is survived by her husband, one son, Jack, 19 years of age, and one daughter, Mildred, 14 years old. She was a sister of Mrs. E. B. Trago, Santa Ana; Mrs. H. S. Kennedy and Clyde Nickey, Los Angeles, and Mrs. John Spencer, Eagle Rock.

Funeral services will be held in the Smith and Tutill chapel, at 10 a. m., tomorrow.

Seized Thursday with an illness that was thought to be merely a temporary indisposition, Mrs. Congdon suddenly became seriously ill Sunday night, and yesterday was brought by ambulance from Capistrano to the home of R. B. Cook, Santa Ana. Late yesterday afternoon she was removed to the hospital for an operation, but upon arrival at the hospital her condition was such that the operation could not be undertaken. Death occurred at 9 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Congdon was born in Stanwood, Iowa, September 2, 1884, and was but two years of age when she arrived here with her parents on Christmas day, 1886.

Passing through the grade schools of this city, she was married to Walter Congdon here in 1905, and with her family moved to Capistrano about 10 years ago. Mr. Congdon having established a garage in the mission town.

TRUCK TRAFFIC CUTS HOLES IN NEW PAVEMENT

Because of an ever increasing amount of heavy motor travel through this city, including an unprecedented volume of truck traffic between northern points and San Diego, local taxpayers face the possibility of shouldering new paving bills, it was revealed last night at the special meeting of the city council.

As a result of this condition, the city engineer and the street commission were directed by the city fathers to make a thorough survey of the traffic situation, and the condition of certain streets in the city. Particular attention was directed to the condition and maintenance of Main, East First, and West Seventeenth streets, now bearing the greater portion of through travel. The street commissioners also were directed to bring in recommendations regarding improvement of unpaved streets, many of which are said to be in an extremely bad condition.

The matter was brought before the council with a report to effect that the newly-paved West Seventeenth street is already beginning to show effects of heavy truck traffic, with indications that, unless protective measures are adopted, the pavement will be broken up in some places. It was further explained that this new thoroughfare is being used exclusively by heavy trucks operating between the Los Angeles port district and San Diego.

MEXICAN'S DEATH HELD ACCIDENTAL

FULLERTON, June 9.—"Accidental death" was the verdict reached by a coroner's jury here yesterday, following an investigation into the death of Librado Aguillo, 22, a La Habra Mexican, who died in the county hospital after his own pistol was discharged and a bullet was sent through his stomach.

Before he died, Aguillo told police that he had been carrying a gun for some time, due to trouble with another Mexican over a girl. He said that, when he attempted to draw the automatic from its holster, it discharged, and the wound resulted.

The man was employed by the La Habra Citrus association. He was unmarried.

How Fast Did He Drive Here from Anaheim, Anyway

A man walked into the police station today with a speed ticket. He wanted to get it "off his mind" and was willing to pay his fine "right now," so he could be on his way to San Diego. "I guess I was traveling a little too fast over an intersection out there," he said, pointing toward the north.

"Will it be possible to get it fixed now," he asked.

Told that it was, the man began digging in his pockets, at the same time asking how much the fine would be. He was stressing the point that he was in a big hurry.

He was in such haste that he did not notice the broad smile on the face of Sergeant Frank Lutz.

"Sorry, old man, you can't get this ticket fixed here," he was told.

"Why not? I was just arrested and the officer told me to take it to the city hall. I came right on down the street, until I saw this building marked city hall, and here I am," he explained.

"Yes, but you're in the wrong town," he was told.

"In the wrong town? Why isn't this Anaheim?" he asked.

"No, this is Fullerton. Say, where are you from, anyway?" Lutz asked.

"I'm from Frisco," the man replied.

"I thought so. Anaheim is eight miles north and you will have to go there to get fixed up."

In a daze, the man walked out.

He had been arrested in Anaheim and was given an Anaheim ticket. He drove on and when he came to Santa Ana and saw the city hall, he thought he was in the same town.

Costa Mesa Man, Held for Paper Theft, Is Freed

J. S. Bourdon, 73, Costa Mesa man, was back in the hands of the city police again today.

Same man, same charge—that of stealing a newspaper from the rack of a boy at Fourth and Main streets.

He was dismissed in police court, for lack of evidence. The boy did not see the man take the paper. Bourdon was arrested several weeks ago on complaint of a newsboy. The boy charged that the man had taken papers from his rack for a month. In police station, the man agreed to pay the boy $1, the value of the papers taken.

Today, it was only one paper, but it meant profit to the boy. The man offered to buy the paper at the police station, but it was evidence at that time, and could not be purchased.

Then he was dismissed.

Fines in police court yesterday were for parking overtime and for speeding, according to the records, which are as follows:

Joseph Stalberg, San Diego, speeding, $15; Tom Western, Santa Ana, parking overtime, $2; R. P. Frank, parking overtime, $2; Mrs. Walter Duker, Orange, parking overtime, $2; Raymond Wren, Maywood, overtime, $2; H. Goeman, blocking traffic, $2; Allen Jemison, Orange, parking overtime, $2.

Admits Speeding Prior to Crash; Seals Own Fate

When Charles Warner admitted that he was driving his car at a rate of "Oh, about 55 or 60 miles an hour, judge," when it collided with a car driven by Rosa Clausen, of Santa Ana, near Irvine, he sealed his own fate in respect to a damage suit then on trial in superior court.

Without hesitation, Judge Merle J. Rogers, of Ventura, who was hearing the claim for $487 damages to the Clausen car, granted it in full. The suit was brought against Warner by the Automobile Indemnity association, insurance carrier for Rosa Clausen.

The three Orange county judges were disqualified from presiding over the trial, because they hold insurance policies with the plaintiff.

Attorney Fred Forgy represented the association in court.

CALIFORNIA DENS WIN LIONS FIGHT

That 23 of the 54 clubs placing in the various classes into which they were grouped in the recent attendance contest conducted by the Lions International, were California dens, was revealed here today with receipt of a letter by Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, announcing a complete list of the winning organizations.

Grouped according to membership of the clubs, dens throughout the nation were segregated into classes A, B, C, D, E, F and G.

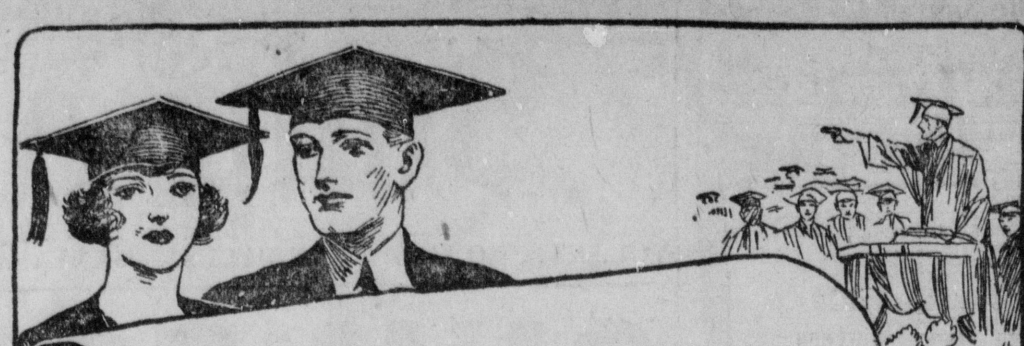

The Santa Ana den was one of three 100 per cent clubs in class C; Anaheim was a 100 per cent club in class F, and Garden Grove registered 100 per cent in class G. With a record of 99.7 per cent in the eight weeks' contest, Huntington Beach was second in class F.

A bell offered to clubs making 100 per cent will be presented to the local den at the meeting Thursday, in St. Ann's Inn.

"The fact that virtually 50 per cent of clubs credited with high percentages were located in California indicates the interest Californians have in their clubs," Dr. Rowland said, in stressing the fact that the competition was keen throughout the nation.

THIS TIN CAN WALKED
NEW BLOOMFIELD, Pa., June 9.—William S. Clegg was almost ready to believe in ghosts when he saw a tin can "walking" across one of his fields. He found that a groundhog had poked its head into the can and then couldn't get out. Clegg pulled off the can and the animal scampered away.

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is when you are trying to do something that you need God's strength and feel it rising up within you. So long as you hope and believe, there is nothing He cannot do for you.

The moment you determine to make the most you can of what is left in life, now that the one who has heretofore been its inspiration has left you behind, that moment you discover that you possess the power requisite for what is left. When it came, you know not. God bestowed it be- cause you decided to play the man.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

HOW TO CHOOSE SHOES

Replying to a correspondent, who asks if it is correct to wear spats in mid-summer, it isn't advisable, unless a man be dressed for a wedding or for some function tinged with ceremony. Spats belong to spring, autumn and winter and only to town dress. A good-looking pair of spats is an affair of headwork, rather than footwork. Above all, one should be mindful that a spat must fit, that is, it must cleave snugly to the ankle and instep, instead of yawning like the Grand Canyon of Arizona. Most spats gape most impolitely, when they should appear to be one-and-indivisible with the shoe. The spat or gaiter, as it is dubbed in England, has an ancestry as long as, but more honorable than, a Bolshevik's whiskers. First designed to give the ankles of hunters protection from briar and brambles, it has developed into an engaging decoration, though only worn in the larger cities.

To step from spats, which only interest the few, to shoes, which all must wear, always choose them for the particular purpose and place for which they are intended. There is no more incorrect style about shoes than about anything men wear. You see sporting shoes in town and walking shoes at sports. You see heavy-weight, thick-soled brogues worn far away from their proper sphere. Shoes carry just as fine and fashionable distinctions in type as any other appurtenance of dress.

Divide the summer shoes you require into two general classes—town styles and country styles. Own at least three pairs of each and do not wear the one where the other is prescribed. Decorative white buckskin shoes, as shown here, are proper enough for country and knockabout, but they are incorrect for golf or tennis, which demand plain, practical models. Seasoned sportsmen have shoes to lounge in and shoes to play in. The two types are kept strictly apart.

The care of your shoes is most important to preserve their life and looks. Always treat them after taking off. If you feet perspire, occasionally shake powder into your shoes to neutralize excessive moisture. Now and then, oil or grease your sporting shoes so that they will not become stiff or harsh. Do not put them near a heater or in the blazing sun. That dries the natural oil in the leather which can never be restored. Take shoes seriously, treat them kindly and they will reward you richly in greater comfort and longer wear.

MAN WITH ONE LEG ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

Robert Chambers, 28, one-legged man, was arrested at Laguna Beach last night by Deputy Sheriff F. E. Howell, and brought to the Orange county jail early today. Chambers is charged with burglary.

Chambers is charged with having entered the store of H. C. Young, Salt Creek, on the night of June 1, when cigarettes, cigars and candy were stolen. It is thought by officers that he also is responsible for the burglarizing of the home of F. L. Detweiler, Laguna, which was robbed on May 31. A gold ring and $36 in money were taken from the Detweiler home, according to police reports.

Chambers refused to talk at the time of his arrest. According to Howell, tracks found around the burglarized houses were identical with ones that would be made by a man walking on crutches, such as are used by Chambers.

CATS OUT OF LUCK.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A new use has been found for old automobiles. Rats and gophers were damaging a local golf course until someone ran a tube from the exhaust pipe of a car down into their holes. The carbon monoxide gas killed all of the rodents in the holes.

Neff, city engineer, who will be chairman of the program. Lippincott will discuss various features of the local water situation.

Man Fined $300 On Booze Charge

Van Hobday, charged with manufacturing intoxicating liquor, was fined $300 in City Recorder J. F. Talbot's court yesterday, and Frank A. Thompson, arrested at the same time, on a similar charge, was dismissed.

Hobday and Thompson were arrested by police following the finding of a subterranean whiskey "factory" on Grace street, several days ago. No liquor was found, but according to officers, several barrels of mash and other equipment for the making of whiskey were discovered.

The charge against Thompson was dismissed on motion of the city attorney.

Court Notes

Canvass Election Returns

Ratification of the returns from a recent election to form the Arch Beach sanitary district was given today when the county supervisors canvassed the vote. Fifty-two votes were cast. H. K. Peabody was elected sanitary assessor, without opposition, and Mrs. J. L. Brickley, Mrs. Allie Wakelee, Dr. J. E. Reprint, Thomas A. Cummings and Foster Elliott were declared elected trustees.

Count for General Public

The Orange County park and its dance pavilion are for the use of the general public, including Orange county people, the county supervisors made known today, in declining to sell exclusive use of the pavilion for one day to the Long Beach Builders' exchange.

Manager Karl L. Ludwig, of the exchange, asked for the pavilion for June 26, saying that his organization has planned a picnic at the park on that day, and was willing to pay for exclusive use of the dance floor.

"The local people almost crowded us off the floor last time we were there," Ludwig explained.

"The park and everything in it belong to the local people and is for their use as well as for the general public. We can't grant exclusive privileges to anyone," Ludwig was told.

The supervisors granted him permission to post signs along the highway between Long Beach and the park, for guidance of the picnic party.

Seek Administration Letters

Letters of administration over the estate of the late Anna Curl, who died last December 1, were sought today in a petition filed in superior court by P. F. Curl, of Orange. The estate, consisting of a house and lot, valued at $4100, is located at 343 South Center street, Orange.

Japanese Gets Damages

T. Yasuhachi, Wintersburg Japanese, gained a $450 judgment by stipulation, when his complaint against Earl Gardner, Wintersburg farmer, was heard last yesterday by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams. Yasuhachi sued for an accounting under a cropping agreement. Attorney Roland Thompson represented the plaintiff. Attorneys George K. Scovel, of Head, Rutan and Scovel, and Attorney James L. Davis, appeared for Gardner.

Would Enforce Illumination of Electric Signs

Merchants, restaurant men, hotel keepers, druggists, and others engaged in commercial activities, using electric signs for advertising purposes, must keep such signs lighted during certain hours of the evening, according to the provisions of an ordinance introduced last night at the special session of the city council. The ordinance passed its first reading.

In the discussion that attended the presentation of the ordinance, it was brought out that a number of merchants, who have been granted permits for electric signs, have failed to keep their signs lighted.

The city is proceeding on the basis that the granting of a permit for the erection of an electric sign, extending beyond the private property line and overhanging a part of the public highway, is a concession from the city to the grantee, in return for which the grantee undertakes to keep the sign lighted.

Man Fined $300 On Booze Charge

Van Hobday, charged with manufacturing intoxicating liquor, was fined $300 in City Recorder J. F. Talbot's court yesterday, and Frank A. Thompson, arrested at the same time, on a similar charge, was dismissed.

Hobday and Thompson were arrested by police following the finding of a subterranean whiskey "factory" on Grace street, several days ago. No liquor was found, but according to officers, several barrels of mash and other equipment for the making of whiskey were discovered.

The charge against Thompson was dismissed on motion of the city attorney.

MINE FLOOR IS PENETRATED BY STREAM OF OIL

Two frightened Mexican miners clambered swiftly up the shaft of the Thomas Sharkey oil mine here yesterday when oil broke through the floor of the subterranean room in which they were working.

The hot oil, spouting from the floor of the mine passage, threatened to fill the mine shaft and the miners hurriedly gathered their tools together and rushed to the top.

The mine was standing idle today. Sharkey is waiting for the oil to rise as far as possible in the hole. Special pumps which have been ordered will be installed immediately upon arrival. The oil comes from the hole in a tarry formation and is very warm. As it cools, it hardens. Sharkey plans to install steam pipes with the pumps to heat the oil for pumping.

Whether gas pressure, water pressure or the force of the oil caused the break is unknown. The oil, according to Sharkey, is free from water at the present time and shows no signs of gas.

Near the Sharkey equipment are two wells which are being placed on test by the Bruce company, owners of adjoining property. Bruce recently moved the derrick to a new location. Over two holes which are already on the property, they have erected small derricks, one 30 feet high and the other 40 feet. The two wells are standing at a depth of more than 400 feet. They will be placed on jack pumps run by gasoline engines. If the two wells test out to the satisfaction of the Bruce interests, more than 40 wells will be put down on the 100-acre lease held by the company.

Police Can Have Only Five Shells In Their Pistols

Santa Ana police officers in the future will carry only five bullets in their six-shooters.

This announcement came today when an order by Chief Claude Rogers was posted, making it a violation of the rules to load six-shooters all the way around. "It has come to my attention lately that one or two fatal accidents have taken place as a result of dropping six-shooters, with all chambers loaded. On account of this, it is directed that all officers carry only five cartridges in their guns, being careful to see that the empty chamber is under the hammer, when same is down," was the way the order read.

A Los Angeles officer recently was killed when a brother officer dropped his pistol, the impact causing the revolver to fire.

Several other accidents, all caused because the hammer was down over a loaded chamber, have caused local police to be more careful with their firearms. These accidents are responsible for the local order, Chief Rogers said.

A check of officers of the sheriff's department proved that no deputy sheriffs leave one chamber empty at all times, and the same with the city police, but to make it imperative Chief Rogers was explicit in his order.

SLEEPING 15 YEARS
LONDON, June 9.—Miss Swane, a Transvaal woman, has been asleep for 15 years, says a dispatch to a London paper. During this period she never has been fully conscious. Fifteen years ago she became hysterical after her lover's death and the sleeping sickness followed. She is little more than a living skeleton. Food is administered at frequent intervals.

SWIMMINGEST PORPOISE
LONDON, June 9.—The world's "swimmingest" porpoise died recently in an aquarium. During the three years he was in the tank, no one ever saw the porpoise when it was not swimming. It always took its meals of small fish, while moving through the water and officials of the zoo estimate that it covered 25,000 miles in three years.

WORLD POWERS MUST ACT TO BRING ABOUT ORDER IN CHINA, WINBIGLER ASSERTS

China is in such hopeless condition that the world powers will eventually have to assume charge and bring order out of chaos, Theo A. Winbigger, local undertaker, who has just returned from an extensive trip, was told by well informed persons during his stay in China.

Between the war lords and the bandits, China is in a bad way and there is unrest everywhere, the Santa Ana man said today. During his stay in Shanghai, no trains were in operation and on the outskirts of the city, trenches and barbed-wire entanglements were much in evidence.

In Shanghai, Winbigger met a former Santa Ana girl, now Mrs. Haskell, wife of a prominent corporation attorney practicing in China. Mrs. Haskell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grubb of this city.

Warships in Harbor
A number of warships, among them several American vessels, are anchored in the harbor at Shanghai and their presence undoubtedly has a quieting effect on the Chinese, Winbigger says.

"China is in a very bad condition and people there seem to think that the only way in which the country can be brought back to normal is to have the world powers form an agreement to come in and pacify the fighters," said Winbigger. "Banditry is rife all over China and, with fighting going on between the various war lords, life is very cheap there. During my short stay in Shanghai, I saw 5000 captured Chinese herded in a stockade and left there without protection of any kind. Probably later they joined the army that captured them."

After leaving Shanghai, the local man went to Hongkong. Due to British activity, the island on which Hongkong is situated is modern in every way, with paved streets, sewers and up-to-date buildings, Winbigger says.

Visits British India
In India, the Santa Ana man visited the rubber and banana plantations. From there, he went to Africa, stopping in Port Said, Alexandria and Cairo. The ruined temples of Ramsesum, Luxor and Karnack and the Valley of the Kings, the location of King Tut's tomb, were points which attracted his attention. Due to a dispute between the English and Egyptian governments, Tut's tomb was closed to visitors and Winbigger was unable to inspect the famous tomb.

After leaving Egypt, Winbigger went to the Holy Land. From there, he went to Italy, visiting in Rome, Naples, Florence and Venice. He learned that the persons who die in Venice are taken on gondolas to an island located nearby and buried there. From Venice, he journeyed to Paris. Unknown to him, Dr. J. H. Pullin, a veterinary surgeon, of Santa Ana, was staying at the same hotel, the Grand. Later, they met on the steamer "George Washington" on their way home.

London to Paris by Air
Travel by airplanes is quite the thing in Europe and little is thought of traveling by plane from one point to another, he says. Winbigger traveled from London to Paris in a plane and found the trip delightful.

Winbigger was met in New York City by his wife. While there, they met three local residents, Mrs. Ellis Rhodes, who is manager of the Denishaw dancers, and C. S. Crookshank and Carl Kaufman, who were in the east on business.

The trip from New York to the Pacific coast was made by boat via the Panama canal.

A. J. Crookshank, president of the First National bank, and Charles Kaufman of the Kaufman Spotlight factory of East First street, returned last Saturday after a very successful business trip to various cities of the east, including Detroit, Mich., Indianapolis, Ind., Buffalo, N. Y., Springfield, O., and Boston, Mass. The trip was taken for the purpose of presenting to automobile manufacturers a new automobile bumper, which the Kaufmans are sponsoring. Mr. Kaufman and Mr. Crookshank enjoyed their trip home on the elegant steamer Kroomland of the Panama-Pacific line, stopping en route at Havana, Cuba. They were away six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis of 518 Minter street are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson of Pasadena.

Arriving from Tilden, Ill., Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Aitken and their daughter Florence, will make an extended visit with Mr. Aitken's brother, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Aitken at 820 Minter street, and Mrs. Aitken's sister, Mrs. George Schipe and family of North Van Ness avenue.

Miss Cleora Fine of 1002 North Broadway went to Los Angeles this morning to spend a few days with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Manwaring of Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson of Whittier, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Nelson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marsale of Tustin, and on Sunday departed by automobile, accompanied by Mr. Nelson's parents, for a trip to the Grand Canyon of Colorado.

Edward Bangs, of the high school faculty of Port Bragg, Calif., arrived last evening at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. E. Bangs, of 709 Orange avenue, and tomorrow morning they will leave for a delightful three month's motoring trip, their itinerary including Yosemite park, Tuolumne Meadows, Lake Tahoe and the Yellowstone.

Mrs. O. F. Hampton of 1220 North Main street left over the Santa Fe on Saturday, her destination being Gary, Ind.

Misses Louise Jerome, Anita Jerome, Muriel Jerome, Santa Ana, and Florence Case, Los Angeles, left Sunday for Yosemite, where they will spend a week. They are to return by way of Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Morris of 411 West Santa Clara avenue enjoyed a Sunday visit from the latter's brother, C. R. Griffin and his wife and baby, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Eisele of 1345 Santiago street, among today's Union Pacific passengers. They are going to Pullman, Wash., where they will attend the commencement exercises at the state college, their daughter being a graduate. Later they will visit in Portland and Eugene.

Mrs. E. M. Huff of 153 Water street, Orange, left on Sunday via the Union Pacific, bound for Portland, Ore., and stopping en route at points in the state of Idaho.

Mrs. Caroline Parker and daughter Susanne Parker, of the Grand Central apartments, have gone on a trip to Spring Valley, Minn. They are travelling Union Pacific.

Mrs. Jennie Clem and son of 825 East Third street have gone on a trip to Herrin, Ill., taking their departure this morning over the Santa Fe route.

M. M. Kaufmann of 1601 North Main street left yesterday via the Santa Fe for Dodge City, Kansas, where he has a large wheat ranch. He will be away about three months, during the harvesting and re-planting of the crop. On Thursday evening a company of 23 neighbors and friends dropped into the Kaufmann home to bid Mr. Kaufmann farewell. The evening was passed with conversation, music and the enjoyment of ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walker and daughter, of Stratford, Tex., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker, 1209 North Parton. The men are brothers. The Texans came to Southern California to attend the Shrine conclave in Los Angeles, and will spend a week or more in Santa Ana before returning home.

MOTHERS OF DAUGHTERS

Will Profit by reading Mrs. Quigg's Letter Telling How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her Daughter

Royersford, Pa. — "My daughter was sickly from the time she was 13 years old, she was irregular and also had severe headaches, and pains in her sides and back. She was this way about six months before I began giving her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped her very much. She is not bothered by headaches, backaches, or cramping any more, and has not missed but one day. We recommend it to other mothers with girls who have these troubles." — Mrs. Quigg, 210 Main Street, Royersford, Pa.

Another Mother's Letter
Roxbury, Mass. — "At the age of 16 my daughter was all run down, nervous, with poor blood. These troubles made her weak and unfit to work. She tried several medicines, but they did her no good. Finally I induced her to take the Vegetable Compound, too, and she has gained in health and strength and is now working steadily. I have told these facts to many mothers." — Mrs. Hudson, 252 Eustis Street, Roxbury, Mass.

Ebell's Music Section
Extends Hospitality
At Clubhouse

No more delightful an evening could be planned than that which Ebell's Music section offered its friends last night at the clubhouse where various talented members appeared on the program, others resided in the dining-room and all joined in extending friendly greeting to guests.

Planned by the section leader, Miss Leonora Tompkins, the entire evening was a success from every standpoint. As guests arrived and were greeted, they were directed to the auditorium where the stage was in readiness for the first program number, the presentation of "The Sweetheart Game" by a little group of Community Players.

The play, a tragic little tale of the Chinese New Year in San Francisco, was beautifully presented by the cast, Gladys Simpson Shafer, Miss Margaret Taylor, Arthur Collins and Burr Shafer. Their acting was finished and smooth; characterizations were all that could be desired, and stage settings and costumes unusually rich and lovely.

The Music Section trio, composed of Mrs. Horace Van Dien, Mrs. Harry Hayes and Miss Alice Folsom gave two charmingly rendered numbers with Miss Tompkins at the piano. "The Water Lily" was the first and was followed by "Morning Sun." They were followed by a talented young artist, Miss Emma Hardy of Balboa, who gave a delightful interval of violin music, playing "Hymn to the Sun" by Rimsky-Korsakoff and "Valse de la Priere" by Wagner. Alan Revill was her accompanist.

The beautiful tenor voice of Monroe Sharpless was heard in a varied and pleasing song group which included "A Memory" by Gans; "A Birthday" by Cowen; Russell's sweetly melancholy "Vale" and "Twilight" by Glenn. As an encore number he sang "Mother O' Mine."

Miss Frances McMullen of Redlands proved to be a most brilliant pianist opening her group with "Etude Caprice" by Gans. Her interpretation of Chopin was remarkably strong in his Prelude on C Minor and again in Ballade in A Flat. The piano numbers were followed by the famous Saxette from "Lucia di Lammermoor" sung by Sallie Lee Seales, Lyra Daley, A. J. Garroway, Lloyd Babbit, Reginald Taylor and Glenn Merrill with Earl Fraser at the piano. So remarkable was the ensemble work of the artists that the enthusiastic audience refused to be satisfied until the Saxette was repeated, the second rendering proving quite as delightful as the first.

With the completion of the program, members and guests deserted the auditorium and its Scotch broom decorations for the garden-like aspect of the peacock room where the brilliantly tinted flowers were background for the remainder of the pleasant evening. Refreshments of brick ice cream, dainty small cakes and don-bons were served by Mrs. Rollo Hays and her aides, Mrs. Jack Cloyes, Mrs. John Wehrly, Miss Preble Drake, Mrs. Jay Hamill and others.

Birthday Gayeties End In Party

Cordial birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. Lillian M. Harris at her home, 2005 South Ross street by her many friends who conspired to shower her with letters, cards, flowers and calls for several days, until the friendly attentions finally culminated in a surprise party planned by Mrs. A. E. Kohler.

The evening was made delightful with friendly chat and very pretty piano solos by Miss Edna Kohler. Flowers were used in lavish adornment of the home and the table where refreshments were served was gay with blossoms. Crowning the refreshment hour was a delectable angel-food cake centered with white blossoms and illuminated with tiny candles. Ere departing, the guests took the opportunity to present Mrs. Harris with a number of useful and beautiful gifts.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Frequently a written report of a church society meeting comes to the social desk of The Register lacking the name of the church. Obviously it is impossible to print it since it might apply to almost any one of some three dozen churches in the city. Will reporters for the organizations please be careful in the future to include such necessary details in their accounts of meetings?

First Presbyterian.
The Young Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will be entertained tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sue Parsons, 1018 Kilson Drive. The women of the Young Married People's class are extended a special invitation to be present and enjoy the evening with the society.

Officers Installed at Social Function of
D. of A. R.

Assembling for their final meeting of the year, members of Santa Ana Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Saturday afternoon at Ebell clubhouse. The spacious lounge, arranged for the occasion, bore the aspect of a stately drawing room in some private home decorated to receive this group of women whose gatherings are characterized by an atmosphere of social charm combined with patriotic interest.

Miss Alice Hill Hatch, retiring regent of the chapter, presided at a table which held a low oblong basket filled with deep blue delphinium and canterbury bells, combined with sprays of dainty white flowers; while other tables about the room were graced by blossoms in the same blue and white combination, the blue shade of the flowers being almost identical with the blue used by the staff officers of the Washington, which shade is also the official color of the National Society D. A. R.

The tri-colors of the beautiful silk flag in its standard near the chair of the presiding officer, were reflected in flowers filling a graceful basket and arranged in a particularly attractive manner. The floral decorations were contributed and arranged by two members of the chapter, Mrs. J. E. Paul and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank.

Annual reports of officers and committees indicated a year of gratifying accomplishment in patriotic, educational and social service lines. Monthly meetings have been devoted to study and discussion of such matters while funds of the local chapter have been distributed in donations toward projects endorsed by the state and national officers of the society. After payment of national and state dues, and the tax required for welfare work among immigrants at Ellis Island and Angel Island, and for the printing of a manual of information for immigrants, disbursements were made for the presentation of flags and flag leaflets to the newly made citizens admitted by the Orange county court, for the furnishing of a California room in Memorial Continental hall and toward the purchase of a portrait of General Washington by Rembrandt Peel to be hung in Memorial hall, also donations were made to Sulgrave and Kenwood, ancestral homes of Washington. Contributions for education showed donations to the student loan fund of Santa Ana while gold pins were awarded four students of the local high school in recognition of high standing in civics and U. S. history; the George Jr. Republic at China was remembered and also two schools in remote regions which have long depended greatly on assistance from chapters of the national society. Another interest which received contribution was that of marking old trails and historic spots. A large silk flag was purchased by the society and presented to Ebell club, a Christmas donation was made to the old soldiers at Sawtelle while remembrances were also sent to the disabled veterans at San Diego. Co-operation with the American Legion was expressed by the elaborate float prepared for the Legion parade on Armistice day.

Following the business session new officers were installed, the staff for the coming year being Mrs. Charles F. Smith, regent; Mrs. Edward M. Blake, vice regent; Mrs. Minnie Holmes, recording secretary; Mrs. Herbert Sammis, corresponding secretary; Miss Mabel McFadden, treasurer; Mrs. George L. H. Ash, registrar; Mrs. J. J. Pyle, historian; and Mrs. Almira Hudson, chaplain. The advisory board for the ensuing year is composed of Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales and Mrs. John Clark.

Terminating the installation ceremony, Mrs. Hatch relinquished the gavel and regent's pin to Mrs. Smith, who in turn presented the past regent's emblem to Mrs. Hatch and in doing so expressed the appreciation of the chapter members for her two years of capable service, paying tribute to her interest and ability. In her speech accepting the regency, Mrs. Smith set forth her ambitions and ideals for the society, making the members feel that they have a regent in Mrs. Smith who will represent them efficiently and "carry on" in the future that which has been entrusted to her from the past.

Ushering in a delightfully informal social hour, Mrs. Herbert Sammis sang two charming songs and dainty refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. James Metzgar, Mrs. Arthur May and Miss Mary Harris.

Hermosa Chapter O.E.S.

Hermosa circle members are anticipating one of their usual delightful parties for Thursday afternoon when they will meet at Masonic temple at 2 o'clock. The hostess committee will be Mrs. G. R. Richardson, Mrs. Fred Bomboy, Mrs. Arthur Pease, Mrs. George Goodwin and Mrs. Charles Gordan. Members unable to be present are requested to telephone Mrs. Richardson at 2124 M at as early a date as possible.

Unexpected Guests Shower Hostess

One of the delightful little end-of-the-week social affairs was the surprise given Mrs. C. E. Carlson last Friday afternoon at her home, 323 East Camille street, by a coterie of her friends. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson were to leave yesterday for a trip to Denver, Colo., and the friends came to say good-bye. Delicious angel food cake and ice cream made a pleasant feature after an afternoon of social chat, the table being decorated with fragrant sweet peas. While at table Mrs. Carlson was showered with dainty handkerchiefs, making most acceptable gifts for use during her trip.

Besides the surprised hostess, those present were Mrs. Ethel Lamar and little daughter, Beulah Jean, Mrs. Mable Osborn, Mrs. Ruth Drown and Mrs. Joseph Gates.

Business Women's Club

With vacation season at hand, members of the Business and Professional Women's club have decided against having an evening social meeting this month, fearing that it might not be well-attended; however, the weekly luncheons are quite as popular and enjoyable as ever and yesterday's was no exception as there was an average attendance at the Inn.

Mrs. Ellis and her June program committee had arranged for a brief entertainment, introducing Miss Agonia Heimerdinger, a member of the Orange County Chorus, who sang to the piano accompaniment of Miss Ada Ruth Ellis. Miss Heimerdinger's first number was the lovely "Forgotten" which was followed by a lively little song, "The Mechanical Dog." She has been connected with the Choral union practically ever since its inception and has sung in nearly every opera produced. Her voice is a high soprano and her songs yesterday gave the assembled club-women much pleasure.

The remainder of the noon hour was devoted to brief business discussions led by the president, Miss Martha Whitson, introduction of guests and friendly chat of contemplated vacation trips. Among the most interesting of these was the European trip upon which Miss Jennie Lasby and Miss Lula B. Finley will soon embark. Each was called on for a few words of farewell and each was showered with steamer letters to be opened "on the high seas."

Miss Whitson named a song committee, headed by Mrs. Helen Siedman and comprised of Miss Peggy King, Fred Moesser Barger, Mrs. L. R. Crawford and Eleanor Young Elliott, to offer a group of songs for the club to learn. Half a dozen guests were welcomed.

Ebell Society Brings
Succession of Teas
To Conclusion

Bringing to a conclusion a series of weekly social meetings which have served to strengthen bonds of friendship and loyalty, the Ebell society of Santa Ana valley staged the final tea of the club year yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse with the officers and board of directors as hosts.

Preceding the introduction of cards, the members were asked by the by-laws revision committee, to express themselves regarding proposed changes in the by-laws. Many availed themselves of the opportunity to speak informally and points brought out by the discussion were declared to be most valuable to the revision committee. Mesdames Samuel L. Davis, William L. Deimling, L. M. Fairbanks, M. A. Patton and Robert G. Tutthill. The general opinion seemed to indicate that the membership was united in considering proposed changes as a marked improvement over present conditions. Floral decorations of the peacock room where bridge was played during the remainder of the afternoon, were extremely artistic and lovely and had been arranged by the decorating committee, Mesdames F. P. Jayne, Marshall Harnois, O. H. Clayton Jr., Maude Chase, Theo A. Winbiger, John Wehrly and Lewis F. Moulton.

Most of the guests congregated around the tables in competition for smart little sports handkerchiefs given as table prizes. Others gathered in groups for friendly chat and late in the afternoon all joined in the enjoyment of tea and cakes served by the hostess group, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, acting as president during the absence of Mrs. Terry Stephenson; Mesdames Horatio J. Forgy, Robert G. Tutthill, F. H. Cloyes, N. A. Beals, W. H. Harrison, P. R. Reynolds, M. A. Patton, Charles F. Smith, S. M. Davis, O. H. Barr and Clarence A. Gustlin.

Junior College Maids Entertain Mothers

Young woman students of Santa Ana Junior college, under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Northcross, entertained the mothers of all the Junior college students and the feminine members of the High school and college faculties at a delightful tea from 2 to 5 last Friday afternoon in the Y hut. This function was planned as a special feature of exhibition day at the college. The hut was festive with pastel dahlias, huge white poppies, and fragrant Scotch broom. At 4 o'clock the girls gave a short musical program.

It is hoped that a new custom has been established which will be observed at the close of each year for the mothers enjoyed the social hour quite as much as did the girls and the faculty.

Household Economics

Husbands of Ebell's third Household Economics section members will be guests of honor at a park party and picnic supper next Friday evening at Orange county park. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock and each member is reminded to bring table service for her individual needs.

A. D. Club Birls Have Pleasant Evening In Orange Home

A merry evening was spent by the A. D. club girls at the charming home of Mrs. Elsie Harris of Orange last Friday evening. The home was made very lovely by the use of many bowls of Canterbury bells and sweet peas.

Fancy work, which is usually the diversion, was dispensed with and a merry evening was enjoyed by playing all kinds of lively games. A tray collation of chicken salad and wafers followed by ice-cream, cake in tints of pink and green, lady fingers and coffee was served. Mrs. Harris also used nut-cups in the pink and green tints.

Those present in addition to the hostess were Mesdames Verna Campbell, Bess Mathis, Eloise Ray, Hazel Lyman, Hazel Hargart, Sara Rohman, Nina Davis, Olive Sola and the Misses Almee Larson, Gladys Young and Mable Cole.

Music Recital

Oratorio Society
The Oratorio society of Orange county, a mixed chorus of 50 singers, Franz Salbach, conductor, will give a concert Tuesday evening, June 23 at the Women's clubhouse at Orange. The program will consist of chorus numbers from the "Creation," "Elijah" and "Tannhauser," also solo numbers by Earl Fraser, pianist and F. Salbach, vocalist. Mr. Fraser will be the accompanist. Tickets are on sale at Weaver's book store, Orange, or through members of the society.

Piano Pupils
Among the young people to be presented tonight in piano recital by Miss Leonora Tompkins at First Presbyterian church is little Miss Margaret Crane of Garden Grove who will play "Cotton Tail" by Burleigh. Miss Tompkins is presenting a score of piano pupils of various stages of training. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ruth Madlener, vocalist and Miss Emma Lena Richards, violinist.

Nearly 1,000,000 pounds of reindeer meat now are being shipped to the United States each year.

OBJECTIONS TO PAVEMENT JOB ARE OVERRULED

Efforts on the part of dissatisfied property owners to force rejection of the Hesperian street paving job met with defeat at a special meeting of the city council, last night, when, by unanimous vote, the city fathers overruled their protest, and accepted the assessment diagram as prepared and submitted by the city engineer.

The property owners alleged in their protest that the job was unsatisfactory and that the pavement failed to measure up to specifications outlined by the city engineer's office. A sample of the pavement was exhibited at the meeting, supplemented by a laboratory report showing that the pavement conformed to specifications.

Vacant Lots Untidy.
City Engineer Nat H. Neff reported at the council meeting that his office has been in receipt of numerous complaints regarding the untidy condition on certain vacant lots in the city, which, it is alleged, is not only an eyesore to visitors, but a source of danger to public health. In this connection, Neff wanted to know whether or not the weed ordinance was still in effect, or if it was necessary to enact a new ordinance to remedy the situation.

On being advised that it is necessary to enact a new ordinance from year to year, the council directed the city attorney to draft an ordinance, authorizing the city engineering department to clean up vacant lots where the owners have failed to do so, charging the cost against the property on the tax ledger.

Objects to Hay Hauling.
The idea of using the boulevards in the city's exclusive residence districts for hauling hay and other farm products does not appeal to property owners in those sections, and they want the city fathers to stop it.

The matter came up last night at council meeting when a complaint was voiced against the alleged practice. It was added that the practice of hauling hay and farm products on those boulevards had littered the streets with loose hay and other matter.

City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. opined that the new traffic ordinance is broad enough in its provisions to cover the complaint.

NAB YANKS IN ENGLAND WHO DON'T REGISTER

LONDON, June 8.—An American tourist who fails foul of the law in London, ends up as a rule in the Bow street police court.

If he only knew it, this is the most distinguished police court in England, for it was once presided over by the great novelist, Fielding. It has walls paneled in dark, distinguished oak; it has a well-worn witness stand; it has a tiny cubicle where three English "press men" note proceedings; it has a row of seats for solicitors and a more honored row for barristers; and in the center facing the magistrate, is what few Americans have ever seen, "the dock."

This is a raised, conspicuous platform surrounded by railings in which the prisoner stands, observed of all observers.

Only on rare occasions is he or she allowed a seat. And practically nowhere in Europe is the prisoner allowed, as in the United States, to sit down in the well of the court alongside of his counsel.

Those Americans who come to grief in London have, in general, only two failings. One is the desire to "start an argument" in the midst of strangers. The other is a native reluctance to obey the alien regulations which require all foreigners to register their whereabouts with the police.

American tourists unite in their admiration for the British "bobby," but, almost alone among the foreigners in England, they show the deepest reluctance to register with him. Nearly every week throughout the year, Bow Street police court witnesses a scene like this:

Magistrate: Who is the prisoner?
Police Inspector: He is an American citizen named John Smith. He was found living at 12 Granby Gardens, and was not registered with the police.

Magistrate (manifestly shocked): Dear, dear!
American: Now, look here, your honor! I just want to explain. This is all tommy-rot.

Court Usher (profoundly shocked): Order! Order!
American: I never heard of these silly regulations. I thought by gosh, this was a free country. Why, in America you don't have to register.

Magistrate: There, now, you will have a chance to state your case. It is the police's turn now. And after a brief, informal hearing, the American is either discharged with a caution or is fined anywhere from $5 to $100, depending upon the circumstances. The latter fine is rare and is reserved for those considered "undesirables."

It is safe to say that no American is arrested in London merely for "being drunk." He has to be quarrelsome or pugnacious or disorderly before the tolerant "bobby" will run him in. There seems to be an unwritten law that great allowances are to be made for transient visitors in a merry mood.

Orange County's Iowa Folk Will Hold Picnic Here

C. H. Parsons, of Los Angeles, secretary of the Iowa Association of Southern California, will be here Saturday to attend the annual picnic of the Orange County Iowa association, to be held at Birch park, it was announced today by Freeman H. Bloodgood, president of the association. Parsons is secretary of a number of state associations and perhaps is one of the best known men in Southern California.

"Handshaking and registration will start at 11 a. m., and the basket dinner is scheduled for 12 m.," Bloodgood said.

While Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier college, is on the program for the principal address, the president said that addresses would be made by other "spellbinders."

Other features on the program will include readings by Eleanor Young Elliott, society editor of the Register; Jack Langley, violinist, who won the high school prize in violin competitions last year, and Col. Frank H. True, president of the Iowa Association of Southern California.

"It is estimated we have 20,000 Iowans here in Orange county, and I trust everyone will be present," Bloodgood said. "It is a splendid opportunity to renew old friendships."

AMAZON EXPEDITION

BERLIN, June 9.—A biological film expedition, headed by the well-known scientist Baron von Dungen, which left Germany a year ago to explore the upper reaches of the Amazon has returned to Berlin. The expedition has collected much interesting material and succeeded in taking many thousand feet of films.

MOLASSES CAR FUEL

NEW YORK, June 9.—Chemists are making motor fuel from molasses, once thrown away by sugar manufacturers. An alcohol-ether product to replace gasoline has been developed to the stage of an infant industry. Rapid strides toward its stabilization have been made, it is said, though numerous problems remain unsolved.

TREE IS FRUIT STAND

LONDON, June 9.—As the result of some unique experiments in grafting, lemons, oranges and grapefruit now are being grown on one tree in the Transvaal.

HEAR INSECTS EAT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Through the use of new and delicate instruments, department of agriculture experts now are able to detect the presence of undesirable pests in sacks of food. The instruments record the gnawing of the insects.

TO OPEN NEW MOTOR AGENCY IN SANTA ANA

W. G. McConnell, for the last 21 months connected with the Bowles Motor company, tomorrow will enter business for himself. McConnell has associated himself with the Frahm Oldsmobile company at Sixth and Broadway.

Tomorrow will see the official opening of the new company and open house will be held from noon until late in the evening. A complete line of Oldsmobile models will be on display in the show rooms.

McConnell has been in the automobile business for the last 10 years and is thoroughly familiar with the industry. He came to Santa Ana two years ago, after being district manager of a large automobile factory. His territory covered seven southern states. Prior to that time, McConnell was distributor for a well known make of car in Mexico.

"I am fully convinced that with the proper kind of service to the purchaser and a good get-out-and-campaign, the people of Orange county will soon realize what a wonderful car the Oldsmobile is," said McConnell this morning. "It will be our aim to give expert and rapid service to owners of Oldsmobiles. This car is one of the General Motors cars and that in itself is a recommendation that should suffice."

"It is my firm belief that the Oldsmobile is one of the best cars for the money on the market today. It has a powerful six-cylinder engine and one that will take any hill that any other six-cylinder car will. It is cheap to operate, gas and oil consumption being extremely low. The upkeep on the Oldsmobile is negligible."

WORLD'S SALMON CENTER

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Three-fourths of the world's pack of canned salmon in 1924 was produced in the Pacific states and Alaska according to the department of commerce. Thirty-two canneries in Washington, 150 in Alaska, 22 in Oregon and 2 in California had a combined output that exceeded 300,000,000 pounds or 6,253,577 cases of 48 one-pound cans, valued at $42,401,602.

INCREASE OF 10 PER CENT OVER LAST YEAR NOTED IN DELINQUENT COUNTY TAXES

Delinquent county taxes increased but $11,641, or approximately 10 per cent over last year, instead of about one-third, as indicated by recently published delinquent tax lists. Definite figures with respect to the delinquent total were completed and released today by County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb, showing the amount to be $110,357.08, as compared to $98,716.08 for last year.

The increased length of printed lists, which were a third greater this year than last, was due, it was shown, to the larger volume of individual parcels of property. Many tracts assessed as acreage last year were assessed this year as lots, Lamb said, the increase in the delinquent list being partly due to oil subdivisions and subsequent abandonment of lots by disappointed investors.

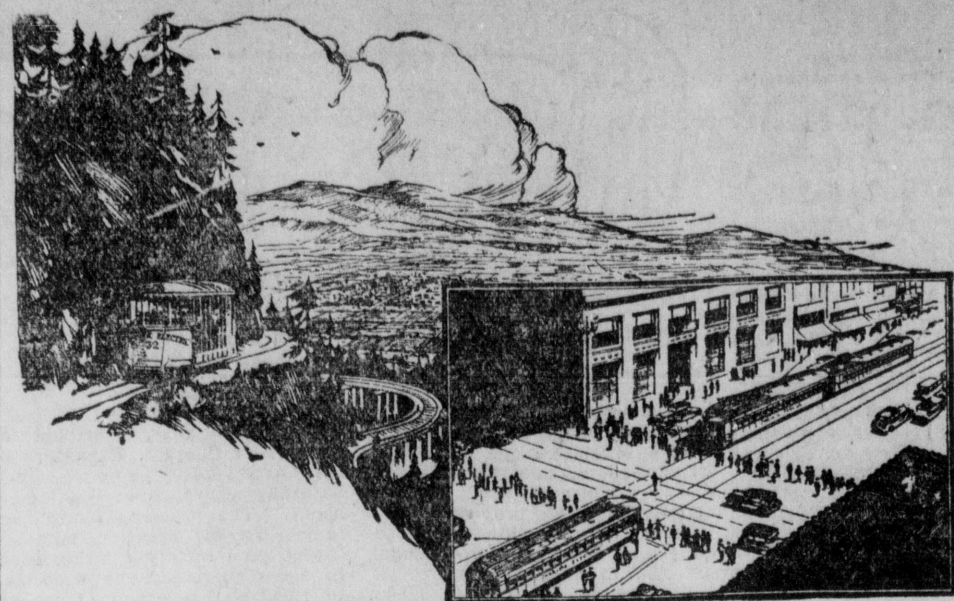

Delinquency Through Error
Another factor in the delinquent tax list, said Lamb is the frequent misunderstanding in a real estate deal as to who shall pay the taxes. Where, in 1924, a piece of property was sold and the seller agreed to pay "1924 taxes," or "taxes now due," he paid only the first installment, which fell due in 1924, the second being due in April, 1925. The buyer, in many cases, is blissfully unconscious of the fact that the entire tax is not paid, said Lamb. Thus there are many parcels of property on the delinquent list through error.

"The purchaser of property should read every line in deed, contract or certificate of title. It should be unnecessary to give that advice, but our experience shows otherwise," Lamb declared. "The buyer, moreover, cannot depend on this office to notify him of his taxes, as we have no record of transfers made after March 1 each year. The property is assessed to the former owner and the tax bill is sent to him."

Notify of Address Change.
"When changing address, the taxpayer should notify the tax collector. Besides the misunderstanding in deed or contract, changed addresses get many on the delinquent list. We try our best to reach the taxpayer. To collect penalties is the least of our pleasures. We don't like it. Besides it increases our work. But if we do not know the owner, or do not know where he lives, we can't send him a bill."

"There was a time in Orange county when we could keep track of the taxpayers pretty well. There were only about 10,000 of them then. But with 65,000 of them now, the job of keeping track of them individually is a bit too ponderous."

Property that is on the delinquent list five years in succession is sold at public auction, after being sold to the state the first year. It can be redeemed when sold to the state, but after the fifth year,

Eighth grade commencement exercises of St. Joseph's parochial school, held last night in St. Joseph's church, were attended by a large audience.

The sanctuaries and altars of the church were banked with pink gladioli and greenery for the event, and a number of candles added a soft radiance to the graduation scenes.

As the strains of the pipe organ, played by Miss Alice Bertin, and the violin, in the hands of Misses Lucille Ireland, May Maag and Alice Borchard, were heard the grand march, led by the children of the lower grades, commenced.

Each girl graduate was accompanied by a flower girl, gowning in white and carrying a basket filled with blossoms. The graduates were gowning in pastel shades of silk, with wreaths of buds, and carried arm shower bouquets.

The one boy, Forrest Curtin, was accompanied by two white-robed acolytes. Vincent Alton, the other boy in the class, was absent.

The class was met at the altar steps by the pastor, Monsignor Henry Eummelen, and grouped inside the altar railing, where the members were presented their diplomas.

Monsignor Eummelen, in a brief address, said that the class was one to be proud of, that the graduates had made an enviable record and that they were fitted now to go into the world as worthy citizens.

Those presented diplomas were Misses Helen Norton, Hildegard Layton, Mary Carroll, Leona Schade, Blanche Hillman, Estella Roelands, Cleora Fino, Rachel Smith, Elizabeth Grotz and Forrest Curtin and Vincent Alton.

The acolytes were Masters B. K. Hackler and Robert Vosskuler, and the flower girls were Jean Hill, Irene Ravenkamp, Barbara Borchard, Caroline Borchard, Wilma Borchard, Betty Coby, Berdella Layton, Mabel Biner and Edwina Maag.

ACCOUNT FOR ALL BALLOONS BUT TWO

BRUSSELS, June 9.—All but two balloons which sailed away from here Sunday in the Gordon Bennett cup race had been accounted for up to late today. With the landing of the French bar, Picardie, at Port Anneville, 282 miles from here, the only ones still to be checked were the Belgian, Belgia, and the Belgian, Prince Leopold.

The pilots of the American balloon Goodyear III were reported aboard the German steamer Vaterland, picked up when their bag dropped into the sea, 60 miles west of the island of Quessant. The American pilots were W. T. Van Orman and C. K. Wollam.

The French balloon, Grand Charles, fell into the channel, but her pilots had been rescued after swimming to the French boat Atlantique, which took them to Portsmouth, Eng.

The provisional unofficial classification of standing in the race placed the Ciampino V in the lead, with a distance of 605 kilometers. The Aerostere, next with 550 kilometers, and the Ville de Bruxelles third, with 480 kilometers.

Italian Politician Is Shot to Death

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—Gus Rini, 40, head of the Rini Realty company, and Italian political leader, was shot to death today in front of his offices here.

Three youths appeared suddenly before him as he stepped from his car, fired six shots into his body and fled. Rini collapsed on the sidewalk and died on the way to a hospital.

The shooting is believed to have been a result of political plot.

REGISTER SCRIBE MEETS HIS MATCH IN OSCAR, STUBBORN MULE MASCOT OF ELKS LODGE

By E. NEIL STANLEY

"Oscar wants to see you the worst way," "Stormy" Gordon, exalted ruler of Santa Ana lodge of Elks, said to me this morning. "I think he's peeved about something. Maybe if you went out to his place and talked with him, he would feel better."

Well, customers, that decided me. I had been wanting to interview Oscar, the Elks' mascot, for some time, but always something occurred that kept me away. Here, I thought, was an opportunity for me to find out what was "eating Oscar" and get an interview at the same time. Oh, yes, I'm just full of good ideas like that.

I learned that Oscar is stopping at Dr. G. T. Bundred's establishment, at 902 East Second street. So I bestirred myself in that direction.

"I suppose he'll kick to beat the dickens if I don't get everything he says just so," I grumbled to myself, there being no one with me at the time.

Oscar Has Good Story.

Well, Oscar was nibbling at some carrots when I approached his stall and for a moment was unaware of my presence. I grasped this opportunity to give him the "once over" while he wasn't looking and discovered that my subject had a "dress well and succeed" look about him. He looked clean and even his hoofs appeared to be polished.

Just as I was preparing to voice my presence, Oscar turned and caught sight of me.

"Say, I've been wanting to see you," said Oscar. "You haven't been dead or something, have you? I've been wanting to give you a good story."

Now, I ask you, wouldn't that put a halter on you? Here I am, a perfect stranger to Oscar, and he ups and guesses me the first thing.

"Why, Oscar," I gasped, "you never saw me before in your life. How did you know that I was a reporter?"

A satisfied grin crept over Oscar's face. He was obviously pleased with himself.

Scribe Becomes Peeved.

"Come on, old sport, don't stall me," I growled. "Like as not there are two or three pretty girls waiting for me down at The Register office and I haven't got time to fool with a carrot-eating mule."

"Don't get fresh," said Oscar, "or I'll nibble a piece off your neck. It happens that I am a student of thought transference. If you'll pardon me for saying so, I'm getting pretty good. I keep my mind receptive to wandering thoughts and when my boss, 'Stormy' Gordon, spoke to you about me this morning, why I got every word of it. You were thinking about me on your way down here, so you can see, if you have any brains at all, how really simple it is."

"Well," I said, after 15 or 16 minutes had elapsed, and I had somewhat recovered from the shock, "I suppose that eating carrots helps this thought stuff you've been telling me about."

Carrots For Complexion.

"In the first place," comes back Oscar, "don't be sarcastic. In the second place, I eat carrots for my complexion. If they are good for movie stars, why not for a high class mule like me?"

Well, that sort of made me laugh. I could see Oscar was no ordinary animal. Evidently he was reading my thoughts again, for he said:

"Oh, I know it. I'm rather smart, even if I say so myself. The Elks have given me a good education and with what I've picked up here at the livery stable, I know a lot. But, he added, with a sly wink, 'I'm not telling all I know.'"

"Are you one of the Missouri Oscars?" I asked.

"Positively not," he replied. "I am of the Iowa Oscars and was never in Missouri in all my life. I may be a mule but I'm not a Missourian."

This somewhat nettled me. I was born in Missouri myself and I determined to take Oscar to task.

"Well," I said, "at least the Missouri mules don't nibble on carrots."

Oscar looked at me a moment. Hind Legs in Motion.

"What you have just said is irrelevant, immaterial, and has no bearing on the subject," he declared, emphasizing his statement with a kick of his hind legs in my general direction.

"By the way, Oscar, 'Stormy' told me that you had something to tell me," I said, from a safe place outside his stall.

"If I did have but I'm going to exercise a mule's prerogative and be stubborn," said Oscar. "Maybe some day I'll tell you. Please don't slam the door as you go out."

Latin Feast Stirs Up Class Interest

MARTINS FERRY, O., June 9.—Interest in Latin in the local high school has been stimulated as a result of a banquet modeled after the Roman feasts described in Virgil's Aeneid.

Amid purple hangings the "guests"—members of the Virgil class and friends—reclined on couches about tables and were served by other students dressed like Roman slaves.

The students conversed in Latin and an invocation was made to the gods. A girl student delivered orations. Following the banquet the Caesar class presented a burlesque on "Aeneid."

Wife's On Screen, Hubby's Shamed

TOKYO, June 9.—Mrs. Yumiko Ikeda, beautiful wife of a young engineer, tried the new freedom theory for women and failed. She left her home to obtain work as an "extra" in a movie studio.

Almost overnight, because of her ability and beauty, she became a star.

But then her troubles began. Her friends and relatives, instead of congratulating her, sent her threatening letters and said she had disgraced her husband. After two weeks as a star, she returned to her home.

HIGH SCHOOL'S VALEDICTORIAN TO BE NO MORE

Class valedictorian of the graduating seniors at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school will not be named this year, according to Principal D. K. Hammond.

Taking the stand that the appointment is obsolete and that a fair basis is impossible, due to consideration allowed both activities and scholarship, the principal this year moved to shatter the old custom of naming the class valedictorian.

This new attitude, it is believed, will establish a precedent that will be followed in succeeding years. Last year, serious consideration was given to dispensing with the valedictorian.

Three students were suggested for the class honor this year until it was learned that the matter had been dropped. They were Miss Virginia Thatcher, Lloyd Young and Morris Davis, according to Miss Levenia Scott, advisor of the high school scholarship honor society.

RAISIN MEN SUE FOR LOSS BY MOB

FRESNO, Calif., June 9.—Claims of raisin growers, totaling $32,500, were to be filed with the county supervisors, as damages for destruction of vineyards by mobs, according to Attorney Julius Hansen.

The claims, first of 50 aggregating $125,000, grew out of trouble following the recent contract campaign of the Sunmaid Raisin Growers.

The growers claim damages from the county under a section of the code covering cases where counties do not give protection from mob violence.

In addition to the claims, which District Attorney General E. Lovejoy will recommend be rejected, the growers will seek state action to protect against future mob action, Attorney Hansen said.

Lovejoy seeks to have each claim filed in court and determined by trial.

War On Sharks Is Declared by Spain

FERROL, Spain, June 9.—The Spanish government has assigned warships to patrol the coasts and shoot at sight all sharks which are responsible for great destruction of sardine schools. Sharks have played havoc with the Spanish sardine industry, and not satisfied with the fish have devoured nets and other paraphernalia used by the fishermen.

NATIONAL BOY SCOUT COUNCIL CLOSES SESSION

The 15th annual meeting of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, recently concluded its two-day session in New York City. The meeting opened with a luncheon attended by more than 300 delegates and guests. Among the speakers was William G. McAdoo, honorary vice president of the national council. Mr. McAdoo congratulated the organization on its progress, and declared that the Boy Scout movement was one of the greatest factors in teaching citizenship.

The reports of the chief scout executive, James E. West, and the chairman of the National Court of Honor, Daniel Carter Beard, were read.

A feature of the meeting was the testimonial dinner given at the Waldorf hotel in honor of the retiring president, Colin H. Livingston.

President's Message Read

A special message was read at the dinner from President Coolidge, honorary president of the national council, addressed to James E. West, chief scout executive. The letter follows:

The White House
Washington, May 21, 1925.
Mr. Dear Mr. West:
It is with much regret that I am compelled to forego participation in the annual council dinner of the Boy Scouts of America on May 28. I have a feeling of responsibility in connection with this occasion, because as honorary president of the organization I realize the duty to do whatever may be possible to help promote the interest of the scouts.

The annual dinner this year will be of special interest, because it marks the fifteenth anniversary of the council's organization. In that period the scout movement has established itself as a real factor in the building of American citizenship. It has proved its usefulness day by day. In placing its stamp of character on an army of the country's youth, it has given a new meaning to the period of boyhood. Recognizing that "the boy is father to the man," it has produced better men by affording a good outlook and a helpful discipline to the boys.

With a membership of 750,000, the scout organization is an army in preparation for the best performance of highest civic duties. It is an army which we all wish to see recruited to constantly increasing numbers and efforts to expanding efforts of usefulness. I hope the council meeting of this year may mark a notable milestone on the way to realizing the highest ambitions for this splendid work.

Most sincerely yours,
CALVIN COOLIDGE.

TROOP NEWS
Santa Ana Troop No. 5
A very interesting meeting was held at troop headquarters on the evening of June 2. Dana Lamb, field executive, was present and was given a hearty reception, as is always the case when he visits this troop. He gave the boys a very interesting talk on his recent trip around the world, visiting so many different countries and scout troops, and telling of various kinds of wild animals, fish, etc., which he saw. He suggested that some of the boys go to Pioneer camp, and of course they will. The boys are looking forward to another visit from Mr. Lamb very soon.

Seal Beach Troop No. 1
A special court of honor was held at Seal Beach to award first class badges to Kurt Reher and Eldon Bragg, and to award merit badges in electricity and civics to Donald Steen and merit badges in civics and craftwork in wood to Sven Reher.

Huntington Beach Troops
These troops are planning for a special court of honor Wednesday evening, June 10, at their cabin, in order to qualify for awards at the county rally to be held in Fullerton, Friday evening, June 12.

Orange Troop No. 1
A special court of honor was held in Orange last Thursday evening in order that Orange scouts could qualify for awards to be made at the county rally, Fullerton, June 12.

Anaheim Troops
The Anaheim troops all participated in the Orange show, which closed last Monday. They provided messengers, guides and information service throughout the entire show. The management praised these scouts very highly for their participation.

Fullerton Troop No. 1
Re-registration of this troop was received last week. Clifford R. Allen is scoutmaster, with E. W. Dean, J. R. Gardiner and L. P. Drake as troop committee. The following old scouts were re-registered: Ned Fahs, Earl Hingrey, Benjamin Lupton, Watson Lupton, James McCormick, Robert McCormick, Frederick Reese, Arthur Smith and Kenneth Tanaka.

The following new scouts were registered: Gerald Staley, Thomas Turner and Floyd Vaughn.

WEEK'S BEST GOOD TURN

The tired business man and the hurried, harassed shopper are the special beneficiaries of a city-wide good turn.

The Los Angeles scouts are constructing and placing hundreds of benches in all parts of the city where street car patrons are forced to wait for cars. The plan developed from a canvass made by the scouts. They found a large number of tired women carrying babies and holding heavy bundles while awaiting street cars.

So, it was decided to provide these shoppers with comfortable seats. As fast as the boys are able to finance the purchase of lumber, they are making the benches.

All the city's troops are to participate in the building and distribution. Plans have been drawn by scoutmasters who are mechanical engineers. As many benches will be made as the self-appointed carpenters find are needed in the crowded districts.

FIRST EAGLE SCOUT TRAIL

"A plan for a series of Eagle Scout trails has been under consideration for quite a while," writes Ralph Pierson, in the May "Boys' Life." "and the first one has been partially completed in Yellowstone National park, the first national park to be created and the largest one. Last summer, the scouts were given only two weeks to work on the trail and in that time, barring some of the old trails, six miles of trails were built."

"Eagle Scouts from Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho were selected and the author, being a U. S. ranger, was detailed by the superintendent of the park to assist the scout executives in planning the trail and pushing the work to completion."

"It was decided to have the trail run from the Grand canyon of the Yellowstone to Tower falls, a distance of 25 miles. This trail will complete a long-felt need, as it will serve in the summer as a fire patrol trail and in the winter will be used by the rangers in their winter patrols. The lookout for game poachers. The trail was built in as straight a line as possible and was constructed three feet wide and poled all the way. With such a wide trail, it will be possible to use pack trains on it, an absolute necessity in fire fighting. The beginning of the Eagle Scout trail is at Chittenden bridge on the lap at "Star" river and the first lap of the Grand canyon. The base camp of the scouts was made at the bridge and the camp was moved as the work progressed."

morning with Scouts Stanley Hopkins, Leland Washburn and Howard Hineman, of Anaheim, to prepare for the pioneer crew which is scheduled to go in on Thursday of this week to do two weeks' work on the swimming pool and other manual labor preparatory to getting camp ready for the big opening June 24.

Lamb connected up the pipe line, replacing a few frozen lengths of pipe connected up the new water heater which has a much larger capacity for kitchen use than last year's hot water supply. He reported that conditions at RoKili were especially good and that there is no reason why the best summer camp of all time should not be held at RoKili this year.

San Bernardino scout camp will be located just a few hundred yards above RoKili, while not far distant is the Alhambra Y. M. C. A. camp, the Whittier Y. M. C. A. camp, the Los Angeles county Y. M. C. A. camp, and the Orange County Y. M. C. A. camp, so it looks like there would be a lot of real boy activity in those hills this summer.

Quarterly Rally

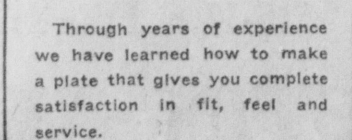

Quarterly rally of the Orange County council for the purpose of awarding star, life and eagle badges and also for the general purpose of having a good time will be held at the Whittier avenue school, Fullerton, Friday evening, June 12, at 8 o'clock.

Scouts and their friends are urged to come early because there are only 800 seats in the auditorium, thus it will be first come first served. The tableau presented at the last rally will be repeated and the "Knights of the Square Table," a most famous scout picture of all time, will be shown. All scouts and their friends are urgently requested to be present.

Anaheim.

Troop one of Anaheim had a peppy meeting Tuesday night, June 2. The fact that it was the close of the interpatrol contest was enough to make this peppy. In the contest points were given for attendance, conduct, tests passed and for the condition in which the patrol's corner is kept. This contest has been on since the first of May and was to end Tuesday, June 2, but, owing to the fact that one patrol was unexpectedly detained in their work, the close of the contest was put off until June 9.

LAMB TELLS OF DEALINGS WITH DUSKY BOATMAN

(This is the first of a series of articles written by Dana Lamb, field executive, Orange County council, Boy Scouts of America, as a result of many months of nosing around into out-of-the-way places in far-off corners of the earth. For the last several years he has been making trips and going off the beaten path for the purpose of study and has now recently arrived home from his longest and most successful trip, in which he visited more than 14 countries and traveled more than 45,000 miles by land and sea. Mr. Lamb has made a serious study of scouting in his travels and intends to make it his life work. Scouting, he says, is the creation of leaders, the builder of men who do things, and no work is more noble than that of starting boys out on the path that leads to success and happiness.)

DIM TRAILS AND OBSCURE CORNERS OF EGYPT

To get on the dim trail, we must first travel the beaten path of the thousands and so we start off on the tourists' tracks which lead to Alexandria and Cairo. Our ship, which brought us over the hot, hot Mediterranean from the Maltese island, where we were last week, has just anchored.

With our bags and camera, we clamber down the gangway and step into one of those strange looking Egyptian boats, and motion shoreward. Our boatman is a dusky African, scantily clad in the dress of the Arab. There is a mean look in his eye and from under his robes we see now and then the hint of a long knife. We begin to wonder if we are going to get ashore as easily as we expected, and we have not long to wonder, for soon he stops rowing and motions for money. We do not pay any attention; it is best to say nothing, do nothing, but keep him in doubt.

We act as if we were accustomed to going ashore in this manner every day. Seeing no response, he resumes his rowing. About 10 feet from the dock, he stops again, holds out his hand and in a mean, sharp voice says, "thirty piestas." This is equal to $1.50 in our money, and we laugh and motion toward the dock. He hesitates in doubt, then with a fierce scowl, repeats his demand. "La" (no) we say. Again he holds out his hand. What are we going to do? He thinks we are the average timid American tourist, yet he is in doubt, for we have not spoken one word of English and have answered his demand in the negative of his own language.

Let's show him we are not. We stand up and return his scowl with equal fierceness and motion for him to take us back to the ship. He hesitates and then, "twenty piestas." Our scowl grows fiercer and we advance. "Ten piestas." Have we a knife? Yes. Can he see it? Why, yes, that's why we carry them. His scowl changes to a look of doubt. We hold out three piestas (the usual fare is two). He nods his head, meaning "yes" in our language, but "no" in his. Back to the ship then? No. Wait, something is going to happen. On shore is a native policeman. We motion for him, and turn to the boatman, and to our surprise he is smiling. Oh! He was only fooling. Didn't know we weren't tourists, his usual victims. With our three piestas in his pouch, and a broad grin on his face, he rows us to the dock and we set foot for the first time on Egyptian soil with our first taste of true Egyptian hospitality, of which we shall hear more next week.

A BOY'S ADVICE

"Good reasons for knowing how to swim are: First, so you can save your own life; second, so you can save other people's lives; third, so you can walk on the edge of a river and don't care what happens, and fourth, so you can say yes in case anybody asks you. That's great," said Scotty "and it does answer a lot of questions, but I don't see why so many of those people you pull out every day get in trouble. Can't most of them swim?"

"Well yes," agreed the old-timer. "It's like a man who puts $10 in the bank and goes out and draws a check for fifty. He's heading for trouble. He has money in the bank, but it isn't enough."

"You see, learning to swim a little is one thing, but learning to take care of yourself in the water is another thing again. Now, that kid brother of yours that's just learned to walk. He'd go anywhere, wouldn't he, if he wasn't watched? If you'd let him, he'd try to cross Main street in rush hours."

"Well, most people learning to swim are just like that baby. Because they can swim a few strokes, they think they can go anywhere. That's where they are like the man with the new bank account—they can swim a little, but it's not enough."

"Keeping up in the water on wat motions you make. Sometimes drowning people make more motions than any other kind, only they ain't the rite kind of motions, many of them merely belin' motions for help. A person that don't know how to swim is just as anxious to stay on top of the water as anybody else, but that don't say he will. This proves that no-lege is more powerful that hope."

"A good swimmer wouldn't care how awfien he fell in the watter if it wasn't for his clothes. Many people don't mind trying to swim in shallow watter because it is a grate comfort to know you can't go down further than your neck if you go down. Many people who seem to be swimming in shallow watter really have one foot on the bottom. This proves that appearance is deceatful."

"Altho a persin can dive without knowing how to swim, they want to for their own safety. A diver who goes in jest rite without hardly making a hole gets the most injoyment out of it, but the one that goes in flop on his stummick with a big splash gives others the most injoyment."—June Boys' Life.

Santa Ana No. 3
Members of Santa Ana troop No. 3, under the leadership of their scoutmaster, W. F. Palmer, took their usual bi-monthly hike to the petrified forest above Modjeska's home. A number of tests were passed and a lot of other regular scout work done. Every one reported a good time. Friday evening, June 5, the first aid team of this troop gave a very fine demonstration of first aid treatment before the members of Santa Ana lodge No. 241, F. & A. M. at their meeting.

SPLENDID BAND IS ATTRACTION FOR TOURISTS TO SANTA ANA

Southern California Cities Gain from Support of Musical Organizations

MAKE GREAT HIT AT LIONS CONVENTION

Municipal Musicians Make Favorable Impression on Visits to Other Cities

By CLYDE C. DOWNING
 President Santa Ana Municipal Band Campaign Association.

Thousands of tourists have been attracted to Long Beach because of the high standing of its municipal band, and many thousands of those so attracted, have remained permanent residents of Long Beach.

The thousands of tourists coming to California during all the year naturally center around Los Angeles, and in order to attract those tourists, there necessarily must be some medium of advertising resorted to by the cities adjacent to Los Angeles. A fine municipal band attracts at all times.

Several months ago, Prof. D. C. Cianfoni located in Santa Ana and organized what is now known as the Santa Ana Municipal band.

Among Best in Southland
 To the citizens of Santa Ana who have heard this band as it now exists, words are futile to describe its excellence. Without doubt among the bands in Southern California, the Santa Ana Municipal band ranks among the best.

Phoenix, Ariz., some 500 miles distant from Santa Ana, wanted a band for a special occasion and among the bands in Southern California, chose the Santa Ana band. From press reports, the impression made by the band in Phoenix more firmly convinces us that we are indeed fortunate to have such a splendid musical organization, and the citizens of Phoenix very frankly expressed themselves as favoring the Santa Ana Municipal band to Sousa's famous band.

Heading the Santa Ana delegation from the Lions club, in attendance at the district convention of Lions clubs, in San Diego, were Prof. D. C. Cianfoni and his band of musicians.

At all stages of the convention the Santa Ana band kept ever fresh in the minds of the delegates the ideal city of Santa Ana.

Play in Balboa Park
 The excellence of Santa Ana's Municipal band is fully realized and appreciated by the citizens of Santa Ana, but what is the impression made by the band upon outside communities. No doubt one of the best tests of the musical ability of a band is to play in Balboa park, San Diego. This is the park where people are constantly entertained by the leading bands of the country and the finest pipe organ music in the United States.

The pipe organ in Balboa park, is presided over by Dr. Stewart, one of the outstanding pipe organists of America. The Santa Ana Municipal band, during the San Diego convention, was given the special privilege of playing in Balboa park, upon the pavilion in which the famous pipe organ is located. At this concert, for two hours the Santa Ana band entertained the highly educated musical audiences frequenting this park, and after the concert, hundreds of people from the audience rushed to the pavilion to congratulate Professor Cianfoni and

STREET SCENES IN SHANGHAI, WHERE U. S. CITIZENS ARE MENACED BY STRIKE RIOTERS

Upper—Along the foreign settlement in Shanghai, China, where strikers are reported rioting. This scene, showing refugees fleeing for protection in the foreign colony, was taken during recent military disturbances.

Lower—One of the principal streets in Shanghai, where American and British soldiers now are on guard to protect the foreign settlements from rioting strikers.

SANTA ANA FOLK IN SHANGHAI SAFE

A local touch of the anti-foreign revolutionary movement now sweeping China, said to be supported and financed by the Russian Soviet government, was the receipt today of a cablegram by Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Grubb, 119 Edgewood road, from Shanghai, China, advising that their two daughters, Mrs. Louise Haskell and Miss Mary Jo Grubb, and their son-in-law, Roland S. Haskell, are well and safe.

Haskell is a member of the law firm of Haskell and Moss, of the Chinese treaty port. Miss Grubb is connected with the U. S. customs in China, and is making her home with her sister, Mrs. Haskell. Both Mrs. Haskell and her sister are well known in Santa Ana's social circles.

The cable added that there was no immediate cause for worry about the situation.

City Manager In Pasadena Quits

PASADENA, Calif., June 9.—C. W. Koyner, city manager of Pasadena, has presented his resignation to the board of directors, effective July 1.

Koyner has been city manager here the last four years. No reason was given for the resignation, but it was said that four newly-elected members of the city board were not in sympathy with Koyner's policies.

Koyner announced he would open offices in Los Angeles as consulting engineer.

Senior Chamber Members to Be Juniors' Guests

Directors of the senior chamber of commerce will be the guests of the junior chamber of commerce members at their meeting next Monday night, at Ketter's cafe. The directors of the latter organization, at their semi-monthly session yesterday, adopted a motion inviting the senior chiefs.

The committee in charge of the Monday night gathering consists of Dr. J. M. Bulpitt, Hans Wagner, Frank Cannon, Dr. V. G. Presson and Franklin C. West. An elaborate program of entertainment is planned, it was reported to the directors.

Better support for athletics was urged at the meeting by Walde Anderson, chairman of the chamber's athletic committee. The organization's baseball team has developed into a real aggregation of players and is deserving of the unstinted support of the members, Anderson declared.

The athletic chief also told of the work of W. F. Park, chairman of the golf committee, urging the members to participate in the qualifying rounds at the country club.

LIMIT PARKING ON GRADUATION NIGHT

"No parking." Rigid parking regulations at the Santa Ana high school will be enforced on baccalaureate and commencement nights, it was announced today by school authorities.

To avoid the congestion that has resulted in past years, auto parking on Pine street, in front of the school, has been banned. The section of Pine street under regulation lies between Ross and Parton streets.

Warning was issued to townspeople to avoid parking in the restricted area. The regulation will not apply to the streets surrounding the campus, it was announced.

Baccalaureate exercises will be held Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium. Services will be conducted by the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Episcopal church of the Messiah, Santa Ana. The public is invited.

Final graduation ceremonies will be held Friday evening, June 19, at 8 o'clock. Paul Perigord, of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, will deliver the address to the largest class that ever has taken part in high school graduation exercises in Santa Ana.

City Manager In Pasadena Quits

PASADENA, Calif., June 9.—C. W. Koyner, city manager of Pasadena, has presented his resignation to the board of directors, effective July 1.

Koyner has been city manager here the last four years. No reason was given for the resignation, but it was said that four newly-elected members of the city board were not in sympathy with Koyner's policies.

Koyner announced he would open offices in Los Angeles as consulting engineer.

ORANA THEATER TO BE HOME OF SPOKEN DRAMA

New Playhouse on Site of Arena to Feature Stars From Big-Time Shows

Announcement was made today of the leasing of the old boxing arena, at Orana, at the intersection of North Main street and Chapman avenue, by Griff Barnette, Santa Ana actor and director, who will open an all-Orange county playhouse there, within the next few weeks.

The house, to be known as "The Home of Spoken Drama," will feature plays that have been hits in all the big cities of the country and that have enjoyed long runs in Los Angeles, New York, Chicago and other cities.

The playhouse, according to Barnette, will give Orange county theater-goers an opportunity of seeing the best in drama at a nominal admission fee, such plays as are shown at Morosco's in Los Angeles, being the aim of the management.

The arena now is being converted into a theater. A new front is being built, and, while the inside of the theater will be left as rustic as possible, because of the location, the seats will be regular theater chairs and all the comforts of a high-priced theater will be had, according to Barnette.

Free parking space within 30 yards of the front door of the theater is another feature of the new enterprise. A large section of ground space at the south of the theater also has been leased for parking purposes.

Mystery plays, comedies and productions of only a clean and refined nature is the aim of Barnette, who will have personal direction of the playhouse.

Barnette has been in Santa Ana for the last two years, coming here from the east, where he was on the stock stage, for approximately 15 years. He has directed several amateur shows in Santa Ana during the last 18 months, including "The Traveling Salesman," "Within the Law," and the American Legion's latest success, "The Full House," in which he played a prominent role.

There will be nothing amateurish about the productions in the new playhouse. Barnette declared today that he had engaged many of the actors and actresses who will take parts in the plays, and that the leading lady comes direct from Morosco's in Los Angeles, where she has recently filled a long-time contract.

We are endeavoring to give to Orange county folk the same shows they can see in Los Angeles, right here at home, and our first production will prove that it will not be necessary for Orange county theater-goers to leave the county to see what they want," Barnette said.

June 28, has been set as the opening night for the new playhouse. A name for which has not as yet been selected. An announcement will be made within a few days, Barnette said, offering a cash award for the best name for the theater. Suggested names are to be dropped in a box at the theater door. Within a specified time, a committee will select the best name, and it will be adopted as the official and permanent name for the theater.

Barnette said today that he had not determined on the show which would be first shown in the new playhouse. He is busy this week reading scores of plays and said he would announce the opening show within the next several days. In the meantime, besides a new front, windows are being put in the old arena and a 60-foot addition is being erected on the building. Dressing rooms and a stage also are under construction.

BLAME JOKERS FOR FALSE FIRE ALARMS

A reward of $50 will be paid by the city for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons tampering with fire alarm signals or turning in false alarms. It was announced last night at the special council meeting.

The reward was authorized at the instance of John Luxembourg, chief of the city fire department, who told the trustees that, in the past three weeks, there had been a number of false alarms, presumably turned in by joy riders out for a good time.

"These young people seem to have lost sight of the fact that, in addition to destroying public property, breaking the glass on the alarm boxes, and making an unnecessary call on the department, they are endangering the lives of people who at the time of their pranks might need the aid of the department," declared the fire chief.

Virginia Bell, by Employing Masks, Portrays Many Characters In Picture

RECEIVES PRAISE OF GOTHAM PAPER

Beautiful Face and Figure Bring Prominence to Orange County Actress

Yesterday, the sprightly, graceful nymph of a great Broadway musical comedy.

Today, the "girl of a thousand faces" and the star of one of the most unusual motion pictures ever filmed.

Such are the amazing metamorphoses in Virginia Bell—Santa Ana's own Virginia—whose beautiful face and figure have gained her nation-wide fame.

Miss Bell is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas E. Creed, 106 Church street, and is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school.

FIT FOR HARD WORK

Before Taking Black-Draught
Railroader Says He Was Sick,
in Miserable Condition.

Charleston, Ill.—"I have been a believer in Black-Draught since the early '80's when I was down and out and it did much for me after other remedies had failed," says Mr. Charles E. Parker, of this city. "I was a sick man—could hardly go to work at all. I had severe throbbing headaches, dizzy spells, indigestion, tightness in my chest and shortness of breath.

"My back ached and I couldn't stay in bed with any ease. Any way I tried different remedies till I heard of the Black-Draught. I took a couple of good big doses of Black-Draught and saw a big change. I was better—I ate better and slept better. I kept it up till I took a pack- age. I was then able to go back to my work. I am a railroader and my work is hard.

"I have kept myself fit by taking Black-Draught and though I'm 52 years old I can do my work with ease right along with younger men. I am never without Black-Draught."

There's lots of truth in the old saying that you are "as young as you feel," but you cannot feel young if you suffer from any ailment of the body. Many common ailments are caused by poison in the system which can be driven out by a good dose of

DIRIGIBLE AID
IN POLAR HUNT
NOT FEASIBLE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Use of the dirigibles Los Angeles or Shenandoah for relief of the Amundsen expedition is not feasible, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur declares, and such attempt will not be made until further information regarding the route and plans of the missing flyers is forthcoming.

Wilbur has received an appeal from the Norwegian Aero club to President Coolidge, asking that a dirigible be sent to aid in the search.

"We are not going to start a wild goose chase into the Arctic regions," Wilbur said, citing the difficulties the dirigibles would encounter. Chief of these were the danger of moisture freezing on the big gas bag and the effect of cold weather on lubricating oil in the engines.

Charred Body of Cyclist Is Found

MODESTO, Calif., June 9.—The charred body of Pere Scholes, 20, itinerant ranch laborer, was found beside a wrecked motorcycle, when fire fighters had extinguished a grass fire along the highway four miles northwest of Oakdale. Scholes, little known in Oakdale, apparently had plunged off the grade, the wrecked machine starting fire before the injured youth could free himself. Neighbors, attracted by the flames, rushed to the scene and had the fire extinguished before they realized how it had started. Discovery of Scholes' body and the wrecked motorcycle nearby were evidence of the horrible accident.

Authorities are making an effort to locate his parents.

Cuts Gasoline Cost

to 10 Cents a Gallon
James A. May of 4603 H St., Sioux Falls, S. D., has perfected an amazing new device that is enabling car owners to cut their gasoline bills in half by doubling their mileage from gasoline used. Many owners have made over 40 miles on a gallon. It also removes carbon, increases motor power and pep, prevents spark plug trouble and overheating. Anyone can install it in five minutes. Mr. May wants agents, and is offering to send one free to one auto owner in each locality. Write him today.

Movie Chatterbox

"O'Malley" is Milton Sills' latest pictures alias.

He is a police officer of the New York force—a rookie patrolman so rigid and uncompromising in enforcing the law to its final letter that he makes himself a pest to the precinct captain as well as to petty violators.

"The Making of O'Malley" as this First National product is titled, is the interesting and well-pictured account of the humanitarian influence of children, and of a school teacher played by Dorothy Mackall.

There is of course a romantic interest in the schoolmarm. And Officer Jim O'Malley's final testing and his great exploit consists in cleaning out a notorious bootleg gang, the head of which is a suitor of the teacher and a rival of the officer. The latter discovers this fact and the true character of the rum king only after he has arrested him in a dangerous raid. It is then that the hitherto impeccable patrolman elects to sacrifice his star to save the reputation of the teacher by allowing the captive to escape on personal parole of good behavior.

A second complication inheres in the return of a convict whom "O'Malley" has been instrumental in sending to Sing Sing, and who adds a final wounding bullet to the disgraced officer's cup of misery. But the rookie's deeds of kindness have included aid to the convict's little crippled daughter. And so in the final balancing, warm humanity so leaves cold implacable duty as to win O'Malley the love of the teacher, adoration of children, respect of his fellows and the praise of his superior with return of his badge. This is "O'Malley" made.

This is Milton Sills' first starring picture. He looks well, fights well and is at ease in the uniform of the copper.

The performance of little Helen Rowland as the lone girl is one of the finest juvenile portraits the screen has had. She's a comer.

The most picturesque character in films, now charging across the horizon for early entertainment of the greatest number of people, undoubtedly is "Don Q." Douglas Fairbanks' latest impersonation, "Don Q." is the son of that magnificent swashbuckler, "Zorro," whose unerring saber left its zig-zag mark on many a villainous face—"Zorro," whose memory is green in a million adventure-loving minds—"Zorro," finest creation of Fairbanks' agile muse to date.

And "Don Q." from rushes I have seen, is a fine chip off the old block, as valiant and ebullient as his sworded sire, destined to walk abreast "Zorro," "D'Artagnan" and "Robin Hood" in the Fairbanks' galaxy of screen immortals.

Ten reels of romantic melodrama of this stamp by the pace-making Doug is something to look forward to. The picture will be released in June.

"Don Q." he wields a deadly bull-whip, as his "Zorro" handled the sword. This Australian bush whip, to be exact, is the major novelty in the coming offering. With it he defends himself, confounds his enemies, checks a rampaging bull, scales high walls and raises general hilarious hob.

As used in the Antipodean bush, there is no more accurate and spectacular weapon than the serpentine lash. Doug learned to wield it under the expert tutelage of "Snowy" Baker, famous sportsman and movie stunt man. Within six weeks of incessant practice, Fairbanks acquired such proficiency that he can now crack a cigar from his target's mouth at a dozen paces, can lay a nice hangman's loop around a man's neck or flip a rapier from an adversary's hand at the same distance. Doug goes about his lot in Hollywood these days displaying his prowess with the most devastating effect upon innocent bystanders.

It is his boyish zest that puts elan into his pictures—this whole-hearted immersion in whatever novelty he decides or blunders upon in each succeeding production.

Plunges 7 Stories

To Death In Street

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Robert M. Cass, 30, committed suicide by leaping seven stories from the window sill of a downtown office building.

Police believe that illness prompted the death plunge. The only explanation of the tragedy was a note found in the dead man's pockets, which read: "Call Mrs. Cass—goodbye dear, I just can't make the fight. I hate to do it, but it has got me and my love. Signed, Bob."

FIVE ACTS OF VAUDEVILLE AT
YOST TONIGHT

A sure cure for melancholia is guaranteed those who see the next W. V. M. association vaudeville at the Yost theater where it opens tonight for two days. Without any other comedy contributions to the entertainment, Lew Hawkins alone would be sufficient to provide the cure. Lew has easily earned for himself the title of "Chesterfield of Minstrelsy" by his extraordinary work with many of the leading blackface companies of the day. He has an original collection of songs and stories that simply take second place to nothing else and with his many years of experience in the semicircle he knows how to put them across.

Then as a sort of counter-irritant for the damage that Lew does to his audience, the Royal Venetian Five offer a musical melange of song and instrumental numbers that are far above the average. They specialize with violin, saxophone and guitar and in these offerings include a number of well known operatic selections. Each member of the quintette is a thorough artist.

Another riot is promised with Schepp's Comedy Circus, being a "Hodge Podge of Bow Wowisms and Monkey Shines." The featured performer of this group is "Little Jimmy," the monkey nut cracker, who will teach many of his modern descendants a few tricks in breaking up the products of Brazil.

And who is there on the face of this fair world who has not been canvassed, reconquered and then gassed by an insurance agent? Both agent and policy holder should not fail to see Leo and Viola Doherty in their screaming farce, "Marriage and Insurance."

Then, after having exercised your laugh muscles to the straining point, just sit still and relax while the Ardell Brothers exercise all the muscles they possess on the swinging rings in one of the best acts of its kind in existence. It will close one of the best balanced all around entertainments of the season.

his musicians upon the splendid showing made. Dr. Stewart, the organist, remarked to Harry Hanson, a member of the band and president of the Santa Ana Band association, that he, Stewart, through professional courtesy, intended only to stay and listen to the first number of the band, but because of the high degree of musical ability displayed by the band, he remained the full two hours and enjoyed every minute of the time.

Can City Afford to Lose? Again, can the citizens of Santa Ana afford to let such a fine musical organization as the Santa Ana Municipal band go to the "scrapheap" because of lack of financial assistance?

The week beginning June 15 is to be dedicated as "Save the Band week" and all will be given an opportunity to make voluntary contributions toward maintaining the band and, thereby most effectively place Santa Ana in an enviable position in Southern California and most attractive to prospective home seekers.

Every dollar raised through the voluntary contribution campaign will be expended by the association toward maintaining the band and furnishing free summer concerts to the citizens of Santa Ana. This is a campaign in which the full 100 per cent contributed will be used for the support and maintenance of the band.

DIRIGIBLE WILL CONTINUE FLIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The dirigible Los Angeles will renew its flight to the middle west and northwest where it left off when engine trouble halted it Sunday, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announces.

Approximately two days will be required to put the ship in running order. The original itinerary will be followed from the point near Cleveland, where the flight stopped.

Wilbur revealed that the engine trouble which halted condensation of water for ballast would have prevented the dirigible from returning if she had gone on to the Twin Cities in Minnesota.

Eighth Wife of

Kid McCoy Weds

LOS ANGELES, June 9. — Dagmar Dahlgren, Kid McCoy's eighth and last wife, was married secretly last Friday to Alex Klipper, her partner in vaudeville. It was revealed here.

The wedding took place in the courthouse in Riverside. It was Miss Dahlgren's third marriage. When Kid McCoy was on trial here for the murder of Teresa Mors, his paramour, it was Dagmar Dahlgren, the dancer, who professed undying love for the ex-pugilist.

She was present in the courtroom almost daily, and when McCoy went to San Quentin to serve time for manslaughter, she declared she would wait until he was released before remarrying.

"You're the only man I ever loved and ever will," she said. "She's a good kid, but Teresa was the only woman I ever loved," McCoy said afterward.

GLORIA SWANSON'S LATEST FILM NOW HERE

"Madame Sans Gene," Gloria Swanson's latest production and the one and only motion picture to play on Broadway at five dollars a seat, is showing at the West End this week.

The picture, filmed in France, unfolds against a background of the Paris of Napoleon's day, the tale of a young French laundress, who by her wits and beauty rises spectacularly to become a power behind the throne.

The play is a classic of the stage, having been acted by the foremost feminine stars here and abroad. Gloria, as Catherine Hubscher, nicknamed Madame Sans Gene (Madame Devil May Care), because of her free and easy way with her customers, runs a laundry in one of the back streets of Paris. One of her customers is Napoleon, when that individual is considered a mere nobody by his associates.

Sans Gene meets and falls in love with one Sergeant Lefebvre, played by Charles de Roche. With the French Revolution come many changes. The establishment of the first Empire puts Napoleon on the throne of France, makes Lefebvre a Marshal of France and finds Sans Gene the one-time laundress, a Duchess.

Her high and haughty position, however, fails to change Sans Gene, and she goes about mimicking the icy court mannerism of the lords and ladies. She is called to account for her unbecoming conduct by the Emperor, but when Sans Gene recalls the old days to him and reminds him of her many kindnesses to him, he quickly forgives her.

"THE AGE OF INNOCENCE" NOW AT YOST.

The charm of American women is almost a paradox in Europe where their unaffected wholesomeness contrasts vividly with the studied pose that every Continental acquires in the natural course of growing up. But even more startling is the exotic witchery of the old-world woman against the background of American society, which is the basis of the picture "The Age of Innocence," now playing at the Yost theater.

Beverly Bayne interprets Countess Olenska, who leaves Russia and her brutal husband under compromising circumstances and tries to find the beauty of freedom in America, where she meets and loves Newland Archer, played by Elliott Dexter. Willard Louis, Edith Roberts, Stuart Holmes, Fred Huntly, Gertrude Norman, Rosa Rosanova and others make up the meritorious cast that enacts "The Age of Innocence," which was translated onto the screen from Edith Wharton's popular "best seller" of the same name.

Girls Lead In Fullerton In Month of May

FULLERTON, June 9.—Girls won over boys by a high margin during the month of May in Fullerton, in the race for majority, when the records of City Clerk Fred Hezmalhalch showed the birth of 20 future housewives, against 11 of the sterner sex.

It was further shown that Dr. Stork was much more busy than the Grim Reaper, when the records showed a total of 31 births against 15 deaths.

Seniors to Give 'Capt. Applejack' As Annual Play

FULLERTON, June 9.—Final rehearsals for "Captain Applejack," the senior class play of the Fullerton union high school, are being held this week, in preparation for the presentation of the three-act play on Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13.

Miss Marion Helm, instructor of dramatics at the school, was in Los Angeles yesterday, selecting costumes and properties for the production, and returned with several pirate costumes which were used for the filming of "Peter Pan," as well as cannon, knives and guns which will be used in the second act, where the hero dreams that he is commander of a pirate ship.

The high school orchestra, under direction of Harold Walberg, is preparing special music for the play, while unique, "spooky" lighting effects are expected to make the presentation a complete success.

Farm News

Roy Willis, Orange, has been appointed an inspector by A. A. Brock, horticultural commissioner of Orange county. Willis will be assigned to the highways to watch for truck shipments of frozen fruit. The Orange man is the brother of Theron Willis, who has been one of Brock's inspectors until his appointment recently as horticultural commissioner of Colusa county.

The county harbor bond election in October will be discussed by Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and J. Seiber, Garden Grove, at the Villa Park-Orlando farm center meeting, in the Villa Park hall, Wednesday night, it was announced today by John Ragan, president of the center. James Sleeper, county assessor, will talk on "Tax Conservation."

Harry Welch also will speak on the harbor at the La Habra farm center session, in the Woman's clubhouse, Thursday night. Sidney E. Saunby, Tustin, chairman of the law and utility department of the farm bureau, will tell why he thinks the bonds should not be voted.

At the joint meeting of the Garden Grove-Westminster farm centers in the Woman's clubhouse, Garden Grove, Thursday evening, the program will consist of a home lighting demonstration, a talk on the poultry industry, by Charles Weeks, noted poultryman and musical numbers by home talent. Light refreshments will be served.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NEWS OF ORANGE

ORANGE, June 9.—A few of those overseas girls who so heroically served during the recent World War were delightfully entertained by Miss Margaret Gardner, one of their number, at the D. R. Gardner home, 550 South Glasgow street. As usual at these monthly meetings of this group reminiscences of the greatest experience of their lives, the World War was discussed. At a late hour in the afternoon the hostess served a delicious tea menu to the following guests: Marie Lindsey, Katherine McCarthy, Mrs. Buelah Stanley Miller, Alice Cone, Miss Blackerbie, Miss Costigan, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Coleridge, Mrs. Carl Maskey, Miss Bell, Miss Hobson, Miss Wood, Grace Arnold, and Edith Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jester entertained over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Burley Kaiser of Los Angeles. Sunday the party was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dahl of Santa Ana on a motor trip to Redondo.

Mr. and Mrs. Venus A. Easton returned Saturday afternoon from a two months automobile trip to Chicago with stopovers at various points enroute. They drove 8000 miles during the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Arnold of Owein, Iowa, who were visiting Mrs. Arnold's father, W. M. Peck, during the Shrine convention in Los Angeles, left early Sunday morning for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harold and daughter Olive, of Wilmington were guests Sunday at the R. M. Ratliff home, 157 South Pixley street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Phillips and son Earl, of 365 South Olive street, motored to Tulare Saturday, returning Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Batterman returned Sunday from a delightful weeks trip to Yosemite.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Tyrrell and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Payne motored to Newport and Balboa Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Waring of San Francisco are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Robinson on North Glassell street.

NEW PRODUCER IS BROUGHT IN ON THIRD SAND

RICHFIELD, June 9.—The second producer to reach the deep sands in the Richfield district and to tap what is termed the "third oil level," is the Standard 2-18 on the Kraemer lease, which was brought in last week, at a depth of 4843 feet. Chickson No. 2, located a short distance east, started flowing in the deep sands April 19 being the first successful experiment in the district with deep sand development.

The Chicksons well started flowing at an 800 barrel capacity and Standard's new producer opened up with 500 barrels a day and is still holding strong. Oil experts familiar with the so-called third sands declare that the full possibilities, however, have not been yet exhausted in the development of this level stating that these two wells are located on the edge of the field.

Therefore, they predict more satisfactory results for Standard's Kraemer 2-19 which is expected "in" early this week. No. 2-19 is being sent to a greater depth and is located, according to geologists, further in from the edge of the production area.

Successful exploitation of the third sands by the Chickson and Standard operators is leading the way for similar development work by other companies interested in the section.

Beach Chamber To Elect Two New Directors

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 9.—Preparations for the annual election of the chamber of commerce were being made today by J. A. Armitage, secretary, following instructions given him yesterday at the regular meeting of the civic organization. The terms of L. R. Oharr and C. P. Patton, directors, expire June 30. Successors to these two men will be elected.

Several other matters, including a discussion of advertising in outside newspapers and enlarging the public playgrounds on the beach, were taken up at the meeting.

MATRIMONY CLAIMS 4 BEACH TEACHERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 9.—Four grammar school teachers resigned this year for the purpose of matrimony, it was revealed today by school authorities. Several others are also reported to have become engaged during the past year, but no announcement of their intentions has been made.

Miss Fern Hiner, teacher at the school for the past year, was married Saturday to Raymond Riemann of Los Angeles.

Announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Lillian Blair to Samuel Bender of Los Angeles has also been made. Mr. Bender is connected with the National Automobile School in Los Angeles.

The other two teachers who will enter the bonds of matrimony during the coming summer are Miss Edna Mae Langston and Miss Rena Beale.

Teachers at the school recently held a party in honor of the brides-to-be. During the evening a mock wedding was staged. Impromptu songs and stunts were given by various members of the faculty. Each of the honor guests was presented with a large bouquet of roses in the center of which was found a rolling pin made by the manual training department of the school.

930-Pound Thigh Bone of Ancient Beast Is Found

CHICAGO, June 9.—A bone weighing 930 pounds and belonging to an ancient animal with strength capable of toppling over a modern skyscraper, was recently hoisted into place in the Field museum here. It is the largest fossil in the institution's collection.

Prof. Elmer S. Riggs, associate curator of the museum, brought the huge bone and others almost as large as the prizes of the "Captain Marshall Field expedition," which he led into the San Bernardino hills of Chubut, Argentina.

"These old fossils are from animals of such gigantic size that they stagger the human mind," Professor Riggs said, as he directed a gang of workmen hoisting the thigh bone of a dinosaur into place by means of steel pulleys and chains.

"The dinosaur that walked with that thigh bone must have been 90 feet long, weighing probably 25 tons. If it were still alive it might be able to balance itself—with difficulty—on the biggest freight car in the world. But it would have to curl its tail carefully."

Fossilized by the passage of many ages, the bones are so hard that a drill hardly dents them.

'JUST A LITTLE DRINK' FOR MAN WHO OWED HIM BILL IS SUFFICIENT FOR CONVICTION

BALBOA, June 9.—Earl Wall, former Anti-Saloon League operative, who was recently indicted with several other members of the California Intelligence bureau in Orange county for employing boys to add his "evidence" campaign, was a personal friend of Walter E. Eastlack, Balboa druggist, according to testimony given yesterday by Eastlack in federal court in Los Angeles.

He owed quite a bill to Eastlack for goods he had purchased. When he finally paid the bill, he told the druggist, Eastlack testified, he needed a little liquor for a party. Eastlack said he could sell him liquor without a prescription.

"Oh, surely you can fix up some concoction," the Anti-Saloon League worker was quoted as having replied.

So the druggist mixed up some, and sold it to his friend. Wall came back and got three other bottles, and then arrested the druggist for bootlegging.

This was the story told before Federal Judge McCormick, when the druggist pleaded guilty to an information charging him with four separate sales of "home made" gin. The chief of police of Balboa and others were present to testify in behalf of the druggist.

After hearing all the evidence Judge McCormick imposed a nominal fine of $25 on each count.

Wall is one of four members of the California Intelligence bureau convicted in the superior court in Santa Ana of contributing to the delinquency of Ivory Shields by inducing him to drink liquor which he had bought for them. Judge F. C. Drumm granted a new trial and the matter is now on appeal to the higher court, the district attorney's office having opposed the second hearing.

8 VOTERS O. K. POSTAL CHIEF AT FULLERTON LAND PURCHASE NEAR DEATH

FULLERTON, June 9.—Reports from a number of local physicians today showed that the condition of W. M. Irwin, Fullerton postmaster, was no better, and that little hope is held for his recovery.

Irwin is suffering from a nerve infection, and has been in the Fullerton general hospital for several days. Death is expected at any time, due to the nature of the illness, it was reported.

NEW FIREMEN AT BEACH ARE NAMED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 8.—Homes in Huntington Beach will be better protected from fire during the summer months, following the appointment of two new firemen to the volunteer fire department.

The appointment of one of the men was made necessary by the resignation of George Stinson, who is moving to Anaheim to live. The second appointment was made so that the department would not be short handed during the summer months when some of the firemen would be away on their vacations.

George Shaffer and W. G. Heavlin were the two men elected to the fire department positions. All members of the volunteer department here have received their 1925 membership cards in the California State Firemen's association.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, June 9.—The W. C. T. U. will conduct a double silver medal oratorical contest at the Baptist church Tuesday, June 9 at 7:45 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. K. S. Hendricks. There will be two classes, one of boys and one of girls, and two medals will be awarded. The contestants are Zolite D. Morris, Margaret Arrowsmith, Frances Hammon, Gladys Cockerhan, Gwendolyn Nearing, Delcine Baker, Juanita Dungan, Zelma Jones, Charles Arrowsmith, Elton Morris, Kenneth Wade, Lawrence Chaffee, Herbert York, Robert Clingon and George Conaway.

The June meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Tuesday evening at the hotel at 6:30. A large attendance is expected owing to the election of 13 directors for the ensuing year.

Several committees are expected to make reports on progress of the chamber work including the county fair committee, water committee and advertising committee.

At the last regular meeting it was decided to make the subject of water supply a special order of business at the coming meeting. O. P. Bunyard, president of the Cypress Park center, will entertain the members with music selections. He will be accompanied by an accomplished guitar player.

The First National bank reading contest which has been given annually for three successive years and is sponsored by J. M. Woodworth, president of the First National bank, was held in the grammar school auditorium with a good attendance.

Those entering this year included Eunice Pringle, Emma Lehnhardt, Inis Russell, Alma Knight, Francis Bragg, Clark Hayhurst, Emmett Mallott, Donald Arrar, Smith, Emerson Stanley and Lawrence Allen.

The decisions were very close. Emerson Stanley and Lawrence Allen tying for first place in the boys' contest. These two re-read and Emerson Stanley received first place, and Lawrence Allen second. The winners among the girls were Inis Russell first, and Emma Lehnhardt second.

The prizes were presented by H. C. Head, who gave a very interesting speech prior to the presentation of the prizes. He presented $10 first, and $5 second, both to boys and girls. Those judging the contest were Rev. C. P. Morrison, Miss Mabel Head and Mrs. W. B. Harper.

The all-day meeting of the Missionary societies of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at the church next Thursday, June 11, instead of the usual day. The Foreign Missionary society will have the program for the morning, and lunch will be served at noon. The afternoon program will be opened promptly at 1:30 o'clock. The Home Missionary society will

LEGION QUOTA AT FULLERTON SET AT $1050

FULLERTON, June 9.—Members of Fullerton post of the American Legion are beginning preparations for a drive to raise their quota of $1050, which has been set for their contribution to the five million dollar endowment fund being raised by the Legion throughout the United States.

The "zero hour" for the drive has been set at 7 o'clock on Monday morning, June 15, when solicitations for the money will begin. Commander R. F. Miller said today that little trouble was anticipated in raising the fund, as support has been promised from many points in the city. The executive committee of the local post donated $100 as their share of the fund.

The endowment fund is being raised throughout the country to care for orphans and disabled veterans, according to Miller. He said that there were 5000 parentless children in the country, due to the war, and over 30,000 whose fathers or mothers had died as a result of the world conflict.

These orphans and half-orphans will be cared for in "billets" which will be in charge of a mother. Not over twelve children will be assigned to a billet, the commander said. Special effort will be made to keep entire families together, and avoid sorrow through separation.

The executive committee of the Fullerton Post will meet tonight to lay final plans for the drive, and to raise enthusiasm for the effort. Following their meeting, the regular session of the post will take place, and a large attendance is expected.

Legion Play at Huntington Beach Again Postponed

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 9.—The American Legion show, "The Seven Keys to Baldpate," has been postponed indefinitely. The announcement of the postponement of the play was made today following the inability through illness of Clark H. Reid, superintendent of schools, to take part in the production. Reid was the leading character.

Travels Around World With $10

HUTCHINSON, Kas., June 9.—Fifty years ago, Judge W. R. Brown was walking down a street here, twirling a cottonwood stick. Jokingly saying he would plant a tree, the judge placed the stick in the ground in front of the home of Amos Plank, jeweler.

Today it is one of the largest cottonwood trees in Hutchinson.

Plants Stick As Joke; Tree Grows

MANITOWOC, Wis., June 9.—Earl Reichert, of Reedsville, this county, won a wager made about a year ago that he could travel around the world on $10. He left home August 1 last year with that amount of money and came back with $100. He earned money aboard ship by taking charge of stowaways from Havana to San Francisco, and later by being appointed cadet on the steamer President Hayes. In the orient he acted as a bodyguard for an aged couple.

Masonic Fund Aids College Students

OMAHA, Neb., June 9.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Scottish Rite Educational Welfare association, held in this city, the annual report showed that more than $45,000 had been loaned to young men and women to aid them in completing their college courses. Since 1921, when this revolving fund was started, 400 students have been aided.

SPECIALS NAB LEAD IN S. A. BOWLING MEET

By the skinny margin of five pins, the A. and B. Specials rolled into first place over the Gingham Dogs and Calico Cats in the opening round of the Santa Ana Bowling Congress at the A. and B. Bowling parlors last night. Fifteen squads only had the drives.

The A. and B. Specials totaled 2606 pins, gaining most of their advantage with a second game of 922. The Gingham Dogs and Calico Cats, Pacific Coast champions in the 850 class, which is the limit of all teams in the local Congress, also went over the 900 mark in their closing game.

Bill Kearns' much feared Anaheim bowlers were way off form except for Joe Gamboa, their lead-off man, whose 593 series was high for the evening. The Mother Colony quintette was low, the Army Mules and Navy Goats leading them for third place by 12 pins.

Ten bowlers take the drives beginning at 7 o'clock tonight for singles and doubles and another squad goes on at 9 o'clock. Four more five-men teams have the honor tomorrow night and they will go out after the 2606 total set up by the A. and B. Specials. More singles and doubles will follow Thursday night when the Congress will be completed.

Tonight's singles and doubles schedule follows: 7 o'clock Squad—Norman Walker and Henry McKague; Charlie Dawson and H. B. Woods; Don Keir and Mason Yould; Al Scheets and Bill McConnell; Marshall Keeler and Max Ames. 9 o'clock Squad—Eddie Lane and Henry Stradtman; Ed Richards and Horace Snow; Floyd Mitchell and Lee Brannon; Barney Snee and Herman Elker; Bill Karam and Baker.

Anaheim Coach Gets Post At L. A. School

Making the sixth Orange county athletic coach to resign within the past month, Arthur Fitzmorris, director of athletics at Anaheim high school, today announced he would sever his connections with the Mother Colony institution at the close of the present term. Fitzmorris will coach next year at Garfield high school, Los Angeles.

Ed Covington of Santa Ana, Ray Walker and Harold Black of Huntington Beach, Paul Spring of Garden Grove and Earl Murray of Tustin are other mentors who will forsake their positions this June.

FULLERTON IN TITULAR BALL GAME SATURDAY

Fullerton's famous "Howling Hundred," composed of businessmen in the city who are interested in high school athletics, will again be seen in action Saturday when Coach "Shorty" Smith's baseball team meets the aggregation from San Bernardino in the final game for the championship of Southern California.

A trip to San Bernardino today by high school officials and a flip of a coin decided that the game would be played in Fullerton. In the Forest at Fullerton is high regarding the chances of the high school players to cop the Southern California and state titles, and an exceptionally large attendance is expected at the game.

The strong Fullerton nine, defeated but once during the season, then by Santa Ana, won the right to enter the semi-finals by winning the championship of the Coast Preparatory League. San Bernardino holds top position in the Citrus Belt league and won the place in the finals by defeating Alhambra last Friday, 6 to 1.

The Fullerton nine captured three games in the semi-finals, defeating Anaheim, Grossmont and Santa Barbara by large scores. The latter game was played last Friday in the northern city, the score standing 10-5 in favor of the Redlegs at the game's finish.

Mandell Returns East from L. A.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Sammy Mandell, Redford, Ill., lightweight who defeated Phil Salvadore in a 10-round bout at Ascot Speedway arena last Saturday night, left today for Chicago.

The cause of Mandell's sudden departure was a telegram from his manager Eddie Kane to rush to Chicago.

FISTIC BOARD IN SHOW-DOWN WITH KEARNS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 9.—When the New York Boxing commission was pressing Jack Dempsey to answer the challenge filed against him by Harry Wills, Jack Kearns, the manager of the heavyweight champion, remarked flippantly:

"Let the commission put up the dough and promote the fight and we'll fight."

The commission didn't like his attitude.

Dempsey probably will never put his jaw in a position where it can get a sock of retaliation from the commission because it is generally agreed that he never will fight again, but Kearns is exposing himself today.

When Dempsey slipped out of his hands and skipped to Europe, Kearns picked up Mickey Walker, the world's welterweight champion. Walker is going to fight Harry Greb for the middleweight championship at the Polo Grounds June 19 and Kearns was a licensee from the commission to do Walker's business for him. Kearns is going to approach the Boxing commission today and ask if he can't get a renewal of his license.

"I'm in favor of tabling his application so long that he can never appear in New York until he says something about Wills or until Dempsey says that he's through fighting," James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, said today.

"Colonel Phelan (the license commissioner) feels the same way about it and I believe that Commissioner Muldoon will support us."

Kearns feels that he has nothing to fear and that everything will be settled in peace. It is understood that Kearns will tell the commissioners that he is no longer the manager of Dempsey and that he cannot speak for him or be held responsible for anything he does or else that Dempsey is through with the ring and never will fight again.

Several new clubs were represented at the meeting and made formal application for franchises in the Minor league. Others are expected to apply for admission at Friday evening's conference.

Double-headers will be played four nights each week, the other evening being kept open for the Santa Ana All-Stars who have entered the Southern California league. The first game, to be played by Minor league clubs, will begin promptly at 7 p. m. Major league outfits will take the field at 8:15 o'clock.

The Friday meeting also will be held at the Walker store.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's Hero—Earl Combs dashed home while Outfielder Rice held Gehrig's fly in the tenth, inning and scored the run that gave the Yankees a 6 to 5 victory over the Browns.

Rogers Hornsby played in the ninth and drove in the run that enabled the Cards to beat the Robins 6 to 5.

With a double and three singles in four times up, Charley Grantham led the attack that gave the Pirates an 8 to 4 victory over the Braves.

Mandy Brooks, a rookie from Columbus, hit two home runs and a single and helped the Cubs beat the Giants, 10 to 4.

The Tigers knocked Baumgartner and Groves out of the box and beat the Athletics 7 to 6.

Knode's double knocked in the only run that the Indians could get off Ehmske and the Red Sox won 3 to 1.

Bunched hits off Jimmy Ring in the first inning gave the Reds four runs and the Phils lost 5 to 2.

SHORT SPORTS

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Indiana tops the big ten baseball standing by virtue of its 5 to 6 victory over Purdue here yesterday.

CHICAGO—The Chicago Cubs today celebrated the Golden anniversary of the club's first game. Fifty years ago, Chicago's first National league game was played at Louisville.

NEW YORK—Making her first appearance of the season, Mrs. Mollie Mallory, six times national tennis champion, defeated Mrs. Fred Letson at 6-1 and 6-0 in the second round of the Englewood field club's invitation tournament, in 1886.

TWO NEW INDOOR BALL LOOPS FOR SUMMER GAMES WILL BE ORGANIZED AT MEET FRIDAY

Definite steps toward the organization of two local indoor baseball leagues to play at Poly field during the summer evenings were taken when representatives of a number of teams in the current league met at the Victor Walker sporting goods store yesterday afternoon.

At the same time it was decided to hold a second gathering Friday at 7 p. m. at which officers will be elected, rules and regulations adopted and a schedule-making committee appointed.

This meeting, it was announced, will be open to one representative from each indoor baseball club desiring to enter the leagues.

Tentative plans call for the formation of a Major and a Minor league, the first association to be composed of the more experienced players. Most of the clubs now competing in the Santa Ana indoor baseball league will be enrolled in this circuit.

Several new clubs were represented at the meeting and made formal application for franchises in the Minor league. Others are expected to apply for admission at Friday evening's conference.

Double-headers will be played four nights each week, the other evening being kept open for the Santa Ana All-Stars who have entered the Southern California league. The first game, to be played by Minor league clubs, will begin promptly at 7 p. m. Major league outfits will take the field at 8:15 o'clock.

The Friday meeting also will be held at the Walker store.

Final games in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Comrade indoor baseball league will be played within the next week. Three teams probably will be forced to enter the playoff for the championship.

Last night the Wintersburg Go-Getters forged their way into the finals when they defeated the First Baptist Sequoias, 16 to 2, at the "A" athletic field.

The playoff will probably be fought out between the Go-Getters, the First Presbyterian Blue Streaks and the First Methodist Trojans.

Colima, Melcar Meet at Vernon

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Mid-weights and featherweights head the fight card at Vernon coliseum tonight. In the main 10-round event, Bert Colima, Whittier middleweight, exchanges blows with Harry Melcar, and Jackie Fields, former amateur world featherweight champ meets Billy Young in the six round semi-final.

Colima and Fields are favored to win.

SPORTS INTEREST GAINING

The demand for sports news keeps up. In San Francisco the morning papers have long printed four pages of sports every day. Now two of the evening papers follow suit, printing a separate four-page section of sports. The fourth page in each case is given over to comics.

The New England Intercollegiate Athletic association was organized in 1886.

received no previous ballyhooing and so many opportunities for inadvertent error in selections that the writer approached his task warily and with no little misgiving.

Two teams have been selected and all the players, of course, were in the City league campaign just closing. The aggregations mean nothing more than would an all-star eleven picked at the conclusion of a football season.

The writer expects criticism to be heaped high on his head but where there's a life there's hope so let's go. If you don't like our teams we're darn glad of it.

Naming Hurlers Easy

If the whole thing were as simple as selecting the pitchers it would be a cinch. "Ken" Wilcox of the McFadden Hardware company and Tommy Hitt, the high school boy who tolled for the Kiwanis club, were the most consistent and reliable hurlers in the league. Speed and control are the essentials of indoor ball pitching and Wilcox and Hitt had both these to spare.

Horace Snow of the Haleys is a splendid underhand slinger and a very fine all-around player and he is placed as the first string hurler on the second squad. "Tex" Bergman of the Excelsiors got away to a disheartening start but he turned in some great games at the far end of the season and gets spot No. 2 on the second team.

Babcock of the Excelsiors and Bill Cole of the Haleys probably were the premier catchers of the bunch. Both are fellows—good targets for their pitchers—and they are dangerous hitters in a pinch. Dwight Wilcox of the Fluors didn't hit so well during the league season but his work behind the plate was as good as any other catcher in the loop. Fred Windler also proved a very dependable receiver and a steady stickler.

Joe Irvine, the most dangerous hitter in the league, was the class of all the first basemen. There were several other excellent guardians of the initial corner and the place on the second squad is awarded to "Colonel" Berry of The Register, perhaps the best fielding first sacker in the loop.

Echols at Second Base

Ray Echols of the McFaddens had no serious competitors for second base. Rash, a good all-around infielder who hits best in the pinches, is put at second on team No. 2.

"Dock" Dockstader gets third base. The Edison star handles himself like a real ball player that he is, Bill Fernandez of the Chandlers is placed on the second club.

The two shortstop positions on the first squad go to Harold Finley of The Register team and "Pee-wee" Scott of the Excelsiors. Finley is shifty to right short because Scott is a little more accurate with his tosses to first. Wilkes of the McFaddens and Fred Fluor of the Fluors are rated as the best of the other shortstops.

Wayne Nelson did all the pitching for the Southern Counties Gas company and when he was "right" he was as good as any of them. Nelson had several bad games, however, but he is altogether too good a ball player and too hard a stickler to be kept off the first team. Therefore, he is placed at center field. The other outfield berths are awarded to "Red" Angell of the Roehm-Sylvesters, a splendid utility player, and one of the most consistent batters and hardest workers in the league. The other field job is won by Everett Lutz who put up a great game all season for the Fluor aggregation.

Lory Roehm, Don Jerome and Don Hillyard, all splendid hitters, are placed in Team No. 2's garden. None of these men played in the outfield during the league but they deserve places on the honor roll and so are shifted around.

against others, watch closely, then make my criticisms later."

Fuller's fame has spread until tennis hopefuls are sent him from all over the Pacific coast for development. He has a regular champion factory.

"I'm an awful 'dub' player and I can't deny it," he insists.

EDISON'S TRIM FLUORS. NEAR TITLE SERIES

Just one more victory and "Jug" Walters' Southern California Edison company team will be in the final series for the indoor baseball championship of Santa Ana.

The Pole-Climbers climbed all over three Fluor Construction company pitchers down at Poly field last night and batted out a 12 to 5 victory. It was the first contest of the concluding week of play in the City league.

The Southern Counties Gas company squad, running neck and neck with the Edison for a shot at the league-leading McFaddens in the title series, swung into action against the Register Publishing company outfit tonight. If the Gas men win, and hope says they will, the postponed brawl between the Pole-Climbers and the Gas company will decide which team ties for first place.

Jimmy Arguella went to the slab for the Constructionists and the little fellow was not himself. The hard hitting Edison's rapped him out of the box with a deluge of runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth frames and treated his successor, Lutz, to a 12 to 5 victory. Ray Price, the slow ball wizard, was hit fairly hard by the Fluors but he got along better than his opponent halves.

The box score:

hard hitting Edisons rapped him out of the box with a deluge of runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth frames and treated his successors, Lutz and Walsh, none too nicely. Ray Price, the slow-ball wizard, was hit fairly hard by the Fluors but he got along better than his opponent heavers.

PROMOTER BIDS FOR TUNNEY-GIBBONS GO

HOLLYWOOD, June 9.—A. E. Santwiler, Hollywood sports promoter, today wired Tom Gibbons and Gene Tunney an offer for a return boxing match to be staged here on Labor day.

The promoter said he was convinced that Gibbons worked under heavy handicaps in New York Friday night when he was knocked out by Tunney.

"I believe he would put up a better scrap in another match in the open-air out here in California," the promoter said. "I understand the heat was a terrific handicap to Gibbons in New York."

The fans out here are clamoring for a return match."
